Let us go to the civil end of the courts, and there what do you find during that term? The gentleman last night stated that only one hundred and eighty some cases were on the trial lists of the courts of Northampton County for the entire year. In answer to that, members of the House, let me tell you that the trial list called last Monday morning, Northampton County had one hundred and twelve cases. How can any member of the House of Representatives or any single person rise up before the members of the House of Representatives and give figures which do not tally at all with the figures that I have given to the members of the House? As a member of the bar I answered the trial lists on Monday morning.

Let me go on further. Let me say that all of the members of the House, every member from the County of Northampton and the Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General received from the Bar Association of Northampton County a letter stating that the bar of Northampton County was bitterly opposed to the abolition of a Court of Common Pleas. Last night it was stated that only thirty some members attended that meeting. Members of the House, I took off one Monday night, the only Monday night that I have ever missed in this session, in order that I could be in attendance at Easton to attend that meeting, which was attended by Judge Herbert E. Laub, and Judge McCloskey, one a Republican and one a Democrat. At that meeting the Judges of the Courts of Northampton County said that in order to protect the welfare and the interests of the people of Northampton County we must have three Courts of Common Pleas, otherwise you will again have Northampton County back in the same condition that existed between the years of 1929 and 1934.

I say to you, members of the House, last night I did not ask anything unfair or unreasonable when I asked this House, to give the members of the bar and members of the bench and the people of my county of Northampton an opportunity to come here, let them be heard and then pass upon this bill after you have heard what they have to say. Members of the House, I do not think that I was unreasonable; I do not think that was an unfair statement to make. Bear in mind that this measure does not affect Republicans, it does not affect the Democrats, but it affects the welfare of the people of Northampton county.

I am going to give you a little history of why the opposition is so strong in Northampton county at the present time. Sometime ago in the county of Northampton a gentleman by the name of Schmidt resided there. Mr. Schmidt was a very wealthy man. He had invested heavily in hosiery mills and in the stock market. However, he died, I believe in 1934 or 1935. At that time he left assets to the tune of nine hundred thousand dollars, but his liabilities were one million four hundred thousand dollars. When the account was being prepared the claims were so complex that the attorney for the estate saw fit to come into court and ask for the appointment of an auditor. Mind you the attorney for the estate same in and told the Court of Northampton County that this estate was so complex, so mixed up that he asked for relief and requested the appointment of an auditor. The auditor was appointed, ladies and gentleman, and when he went through all those claims he reduced them to the tune of two hundred fifty thousand dollars from the original amount of one million four hundred thousand dollars. He then made his report. It took that gentleman about six months of intensive hard work to go through the estate of a man who had seen fit to invest more money than he actually had, and for that work a charge was made against the estate of Schmidt in the amount of seven thousand five hundred dollars. It happened that Schmidt had a brother, who is still living and who is President of the National Bank of Nazareth, Pennsylvania. He had gone on notes for his brother to the tune of fifty-eight thousand dollars. It also appears that the bank of which the gentleman was President was also on notes to the tune of fifty-eight thousand dollars. This gentleman was greatly aroused when he heard of the fee that was charged. He said, "Look how much more would have gone into the bank; look how much more my bank and myself would have received and how much less I would have been forced to pay if they would not have appointed an auditor."

In pursuance of that, with a malicious and wicked mind this man is now working to destroy the principles of the judiciary in Northampton County. I tell you, ladies and gentlemen of this House, that is the motivating force behind the introduction of these bills. The bankers of the state of Pennsylvania, especially in my county, are not satisfied with taking everything away from everybody, owning the whole community and the real estate and taking the homes away from the poor people, they are also at this time trying to undermine the judiciary of Northampton County because they won't spend, mind you gentlemen, they won't spend according to their whims and desires.

Members of the House, you have heard that only thirty members attended the meeting of the Bar Association. I do not frankly remember whether there were thirty or more there, but I do know this, that Adams Dodson, a very prominent Republican, who is Secretary of our Bar Association, sent a notice to every lawyer in Northampton County ten days ahead of time, as required by the by-laws of our Bar Association, to attend the meeting to be held in Easton. Certainly it was not his fault that only thirty attended and that the others did not see fit to attend. Let me tell why there were not more there. We have over thirty-five banks in our county, they have solicitors, they own mortgages upon the homes of the attorneys, and if those attorneys had attended that meeting, there would have been reprisals against them individually and collectively by the bankers association of Northampton County.

I say to you members of the House that the abolition of a Judge in my county is uncalled for, it is unwarranted. The things that took place last night are unjustifiable. I feel that the citizens of my county have a right to come here and be heard, and I say to you, members of the House not as a Democrat, but as a citizen of my county that I appear against this bill because my county cannot stand the abolition of a Judge of a Court of Common Pleas.

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hope that my temper shall not manifest itself in any ungracious word or act toward my colleague from Northampton county, Mr. Jirolanio. I appreciate very highly the statements the gentleman found it expedient to make, because I believe from the force of his argument he has added a great many votes toward the passage of this bill.

I do not want to take up the time of the House to make any lengthy debate upon this bill. I addressed the House yesterday on that question and gave facts and figures and it would be needless to repeat that information today. I do however want to correct the impression that may have been created by the gentleman when he said that I made a statement last night with reference to the number of mmbers of the Bar present at that meeting. That has an element of doubt. I refer you to a letter from the Secretary of the Bar Association, Mr. Adams Dodson, dated April 22nd, in which he says this:

> "The meeting of the Bar Association held April 10th, when a special meeting, at which thirty-two members were present. I believe the total membership of the Bar Association of Northampton County is ninety-seven."

The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio, made reference to an issue back in 1921. Fortunately my memory serves me correctly on that score, for I was responsible at that time for introducing the bill in this House by which a third Judge was given to Northampton county. A bill for a separate Orphans' Court Judge was introduced in the Senate by the then Senator Hackett, on the solicitation of the Bench of Northampton county, for what they believed at that time to be a necessity. There was a compromise by substituting a Common Pleas Court Judge in lieu of an Orphans' Court Judge. Since the gentleman took occasion to refer to that ancient period I would like to remind the gentleman from Northampton County that since that time there has been an expenditure of $217,-728.14 for the cost of audits and $218,253.70 for the cost of fees of auditors, so that when I am appealing to you today, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the passage of these companion bills, I am setting aside any political aspect as to this question, and I am looking at it entirely from a business standpoint and on the basis of economy.

Upon the suggestion of the gentleman from Northampton, in his ready approval of the bill introduced providing for an Orphans' Court Judge, he was subtle in his mind to believe that we were going to establish an Orphans' Court Judge and at the same time hold for Northampton County the three Common Pleas Judges. The idea in the first place is highly preposterous. We are at a point in our economic state of life where to even suggest the addition of eighteen or twenty thousand dollars for a third judge of Northampton County would be ridiculous and I would not blame the citizens of Northampton County if they crucified their Representatives for introducing an act by which the additional cost would be placed upon the state and correspondingly upon the county for the purpose of providing another judge.

The gentleman made reference to the inscription, "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." But I believe the getnleman has overlooked that other wisdom that has been expressed by one of the ancient sacred writers to the effect that "Words fitly spoken are apples of gold in pictures of silver." If he would confine himself to the facts and understand the situation, and honestly reveal them as they pertain to Northampton County, the gentleman from Northampton County, although a member of the Bar, would gladly acquiesce in giving to the citizens of Northampton County their constitutional rights. When he stated to the House of Representatives this afternoon that the Constitution of the state of Pennsylvania provides when the population is more than one hundred fifty thousand, such county may have a Judge of the Orphans' Court, he overlooked the fact that the word is "shall." The act makes it mandatory. Therefore, the people of Northampton County who are bearing this enormous expense, which is absolutely unfair, are merely asking for their rights, their constitutional privilege, to exercise that which the law says it shall have.

Now, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, there comes a time in every man's life when he approaches a solemn moment, when he performs a sacred deed and that is when he subscribes his name to his last will and testament, expressing and manifesting through that document a means by which his own desires may be perpetuated in the taking care of his household and his family, and the sacred word tells us that the man who fails to provide for his own household is worse than an infidel. Consequently that man faces the responsibilities of providing for those he loves and cares for, when that man leaves behind him a silent voice that speaks as to how he would like to have the administration of his affairs as relates to his family conducted. I submit to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House from the element of the moral standpoint and from the standpoint of justice to which it is attached, a man's will as he expressed it, so far as it relates to the distribution of his wealth, and the manifestation of that distribution has to be done in the spirit of honor, in the spirit of fairness, and there should be no occasion in a county like Northampton County, where there is going to be this enormous and tremendous expense paid for officers and for officers' fees, in order that a man's wishes, though silent in death, speaking through his death, cannot be administered in fairness and in equity.

Therefore I appeal to you, members of the House, as a citizen from Northampton County, believing as I do, that I have fitly represented them in this issue, I ask your support for the passage of this bill.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Northampton be kind enough to read to the members of the House the entire letter which he received from Adams Dodson, Secretary of the Bar Association of Northampton County, in its entirety.

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. If it is the desire of the Speaker to have this letter read in toto I will be glad to do so.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's request is not one for the Chair to decide. It is a request obviously to be decided by the gentleman from Northampton.

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. I have no objection to the request except that it adds to the expense of putting it into the record.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton will have to decide that question for himself.

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, in order to avoid suspicion I will be glad to read the letter. It is as follows:

April 22, 1939

Honorable John N. Hoffman,
House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My dear Mr. Hoffman:

Your letter of April 18 it at hand inquiring further particulars about the meeting of the Northampton County Bar Association held April 10, and other matters. I appreciate very much the interest that you have taken in this matter. To answer your questions in the order you asked them, I reply as follows:

The meeting of the Bar Association held April 10 was a special meeting, at which 32 members were present. I believe the total membership of the Bar Association of Northampton County is 97. The resolution, a copy of which I forwarded to you, was passed unanimously, as stated to you in my letter of April 13.

As to the silence on House Bill 584, the companion bill of 585, the following should explain the non-action as to House Bill 584:

During 1937 our Bar Association went on record as favoring a separate Orphans' Court in Northampton County, not, however, by reducing the number of Common Pleas' Judges from three to two. The Senators and Assemblymen were sent copies of this resolution. For this reason the Bar Association did not feel it necessary to go on record again as favoring a separate Orphans' Court.

However, the Bar Association does not favor a separate Orphans' Court if the separate Orphans' Court entails a reduction in the amount of Common Pleas' Judges. The Bar Association feels that three Common Pleas' Judges are necessary in Northampton County to carry on an efficient administration of the business of the Court. It feels that it would be a great mistake to reduce the number of Common Pleas' Judges in Northampton County from three to two.

It passed no resolution at this time urging a separate Orphans' Court—in addition to the present three Common Pleas' Judges — for two reasons, among others. First, the Bar Association did not wish to ask of the Legislature the additional expense of $12,500 or more in times as bad as these times. Second, the three Common Pleas' Judges have decided to sit as Orphans' Court Judges so as to obviate the expense of a fourth Judge (the fourth Judge being an Orphans' Court Judge); and so as to obviate the expense of appointment of auditors in estates.

I hope the above conveys to you the thought of the Bar Association, as expressed at its meeting of April 10.

Again may I express my appreciation for your interest in this matter?

Very truly yours,
ADAMS DODSON
Secretary, Northampton County
Bar Association.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Northampton be kind enough to read the letter dated April 10th, received April 13th, which contains a resolution from the Bar Association of Northampton County, showing that they are not in favor of the abolition of a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, I shall be glad to read the letter, which is as follows:

April 13, 1939.

Honorable John N. Hoffman,
House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

House Bill No. 585 has been called to the attention of the Northampton County Bar Association, the purpose of which bill is to reduce the number of Common Pleas' Judges in Northampton County from three to two. At a special meeting of the Bar Association held for the purpose of considering this bill, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"Resolved That the Bar Association of Northampton County express its disapproval of House Bill No. 585 eliminating one of the Judges of Northampton County, for the reason that the Bar Association is convinced that an efficient administration of the business of the Court requires the retention of three Judges of the Court of Common Pleas; and that copies of this resolution be sent to the Governor of the Commonwealth the Speaker of the House of Representatives; State Senator and Assemblymen from the 18th District; and the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate and the House."

In accordance with the direction contained in the resolution, this letter is sent to you.

Very truly yours,
H. ADAMS DODSON
Secretary, Northampton County
Bar Association.

AD|cs

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in justice to myself I would like to have permission from the Speaker and the members of the House to read a letter that I wrote to Mr. Dodson in reply to that letter.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has the floor and if there is no objection the gentleman may proceed.

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, the letter reads as follows:

April 18th, 1939.

Mr. Adams Dodson,
Secretary, Northampton County
Bar Association
Bethlehem, Penna.

In re: H. B. 584 and H. B. 585

Dear Mr. Dodson:

Thank you for your letter of the 13th instant received today citing a Resolution passed by the Bar Association of Northampton County expressing disapproval of House Bill No. 585, which has been read by me with interest.

May I ask you to please further inform me definitely the number of Members of the Bar Association in attendance at the meeting when the Resolution was considered, and by what vote, pro and con, was the Resolution adopted.

What strikes me as strangely peculiar about the Resolution is the complete silence and lack of reference with regard to H. B. 584. One would naturally imply that silence on that Bill would constitute approval by the Bar Association. It must be obvious to your Association that H. B. 584 could not be considered separately and apart from H. B. 585.

My only purpose as one of the Assemblymen from Northampton County, and to do justice to myself and constituents, is to seek to know all the related facts from both sides, and then judge the merits on the basis of preponderant facts, and I will appreciate if you can help me to this end.

Sincerely Yours

JOHN N. HOFFMAN,
Assemblyman,
Second District-Northampton County.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to say one more thing. The gentleman from Northampton County has stated that the cost of the auditors' fees, not the cost of audits, because the cost of audits would be the same whether you would have an Orphans' Court or Common Pleas Court, the cost of the fees received by auditors from 1921 to the present date, a period of nineteen years, is two hundred eighteen thousand dollars, which amounts to about eleven thousand dollars per year. Now that eleven thousand dollars was paid out of funds which were in litigation at that time. Under this bill you have the cost to the state of Pennsylvania of twelve thousand five hundred dollars as a salary for the judge, who will become the President Judge of the Orphans' Court, you would have two tipstaves at a salary of two thousand five hundred dollars each, you would have the salary of a court stenographer at three thousand five hundred dollars, and then you would have the salary of his own private secretary at three thousand dollars. In other words making a total expense of twenty-three thousand dollars. Then in addition, with the elimination of one Judge of the Court of Common Pleas you would have the cost of bringing into Northampton County judges to sit as extra judges at a cost of twenty dollars per day and expenses, which is paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I just ask you to take those figures in comparison with the cost that he gave us of eleven thousand dollars per year, according to his own assertion. I ask you to pay some attention to the letter that was read by the Honorable Representative John N. Hoffman from Northampton County, sent to him by the Bar Association, wherein they said they were bitterly opposed to the abolition of the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have waited for this moment for forty-five years. During all that period we have had the Legislature, the Bar Associations in the various counties, appointing and creating new judges so that some of the judges may take longer vacations, but this is the first time within my memory that we have had an honest county, a county that comes before the Legislature and says, "Gentlemen, we do not have work for four judges. We only have work for three judges and we only want three judges." If there is any money left over to the present administration from a financed budget, they ought to erect a monument to Northampton County and to the gentleman from Northampton County who has come here so courageously to urge the cause of economy in connection with judicial expense.

The other gentleman from Northampton County has stated if they only have two Common Pleas' Court Judges in his county, they will have to have visiting judges. I say I hope so because, goodness knows we want to send some of the gypsy judges from Cambria County.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 732, Printer's No. 324 was passed over at the request of Mr. FISHER.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1054, entitled:

An Act providing a method of annexation of parts of townships of the first class, to contiguous cities of the second class, boroughs or other contiguous townships of the first class, and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 2 of title, by inserting after the word "class" the following: "not in excess of twenty per centum of the assessed value of any such township"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 7, by inserting after the word "act" the following: "Provided, however, That the provisions of this act shall not apply when the portion of any first class township to be annexed represents twenty per centum or more of the assessed value of such township."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEIF. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny explain to the House the purpose of this bill?

Mr. SEIF. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman require the whole bill explained or simply the amendments?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. SEIF. Mr. Speaker, it will be noticed on printed page 3 of the bill the first amendment reads that no person can be a party to any arrangement whereby business is obtained through the sale or solicitation of funeral contracts or burial associations.

The purpose of the amendment is this: The bill as it now stands provides that no funeral man or undertaker may solicit business. This amendment provides that he cannot circuitously through agents or, as they say in the legal profession, "through runners," solicit business. It has been the practice of police officers, sometimes morgue attendants, hospital clerks and others to call a funeral director, an acquaintance of theirs, and tell him to go to a certain place where some person has died. The funeral man who has been thus solicited will run out there and say that he has been sent there by the hospital or some morgue or some such agent, and those people will then feel that they should not retain any other undertaker, but feel that they are obligated to retain this funeral director. Of course, this form of running we are trying to stop by this amendment.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am hoping this bill will pass because it will do away with a lot of unethical practice that has been carried on by some very bad people who are put in places of confidence, in the city of Philadelphia especially. We have in hospitals quite often a clerk, and after someone has died, the clerk will call in some unscrupulous undertaker and give him the address of the person who has passed away. The undertaker goes there and poses as a representative of the morgue or a representative of the hospital, and through that influence he receives an order and gets the body. After he has the body in his possession he puts an exorbitant price on the family, and they will have to keep him or else pay his price for services up to that time. I have noticed in the House that undertakers have been labeled as being this and being that; that they are high priced, and we are trying as doctors and everyone else to get rid of that type of undertaker. This bill will go a long ways in that direction. The undertakers of the state of Pennsylvania as a whole are men of high caliber. We wish to have the confidence of all the people in the state of Pennsylvania. Therefore we are against any kind of runners, whether they be policemen, ambulance chasers, morgue attendants, hospital attendants or anyone else, because we want to run the undertaking business on a high plane, in order that people might not pay an exorbitant price but pay according to their own wishes. I hope that this House will vote unanimously in favor of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 722, entitled:

An Act to amend section four sections nine ten and fifteen as amended and sections seventeen twenty-one twenty-eight of an act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred seven) entitled "An Act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior Acts of Assembly" making additional provisions for the filing and consolidation of tax claims in counties of the first class providing further procedure for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CORTESE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 4 (Sec. 15), page 10, line 28, by striking out the words: "of the" where they first appear in said line.

Amend Sec. 4 (Sec 1.5), page 10, line 28, by removing the underscoring beneath the word "claimant"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1156, Printer's No. 347, was passed over at the request of Mr. GILLAN.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 674, as follows:

An Act requiring justices of the peace and aldermen to use only the forms of warrants notices writs and processes as furnished by the county commissioners through the county controllers requiring that records of the issuance thereof be kept and returns be made quarterly thereon to the county controllers and providing penalties

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The county commissioners may prepare and furnish through the controller's office of each county all forms of warrants notices writs and processes relating to or incident to (1) desertion and non-support (2) surety of peace (3) violations of vehicle code (4) criminal offences (5) juvenile court cases and (6) miscellaneous summary offenses not specifically enumerated above These forms may be prepared and distributed in pads containing fifty forms each and each attached to a stub and consecutively numbered Upon each such form there shall be in addition to the specific number the name of the county and of the offense The county controller shall keep a record of the number of each such form delivered and the specific number thereon and the name of the justice of the peace or alderman to whom delivered

Section 2 No justice of the peace or alderman shall issue in any county where such forms are prepared and issued by the county commissioners any warrant notice writ or process covering any of the enumerated offenses as above set forth unless he shall use the forms of warrants notices writs and processes as supplied to him by the controller of the county in which he is a justice of the peace or alderman Each justice of the peace and alderman shall upon preparing such a warrant notice writ or process enter on the stub of such form which stub shall remain in the pad the name and address of the person for whom such warrant notice writ or process was issued and the dates of such issuance and the return thereof

Section 3 Each justice of the peace and alderman in any county which has accepted the provisions of this act shall on the first day of each January April July and October of each year file a report with the county controller of the number of forms the type of offense and the numbers thereon

Section 4 Any justice of the peace or alderman in any county which has accepted the provisions of this act who issues any form of warrant notice writ or process other than that supplied by the county controller or who fails to enter upon the stub of each form as issued the record as required by this act or who fails to file the reports as required and at the times specified upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of three hundred dollars ($300.) or to undergo an imprisonment of thirty (30) days or both in the discretion of the court

Section 5 This act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, I would have the gentleman from Allegheny county give us some information concerning the Mayors of third class cities—do they hold police court?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, it would be my thought that the mayors of third class cities do, but I do not see where that has anything to do with the bill.

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, do the Mayors perform the same duty in holding police court as do the aldermen and justices of the peace?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I would say that it would be somewhat different but along the same line.

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny kindly tell us whether or not they have police magistrates in the police courts in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. FLEMING. They do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JACOB L MOSER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill does not provide for mayors who hold police court. They perform the same duties as aldermen and justices of the peace and therefore they would come under the category of this bill. There is no provision providing for the mayors who hold police court. Further on in the bill it is specifically provided that certain forms shall be used. The mayors who hold police court would not be compelled to use those forms, and therefore, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I consider this a piece of class legislation and I ask the members of the House vote this bill down.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not my desire in any way to prolong the debate on this bill, in fact I am somewhat astounded that there is any objection to it, because in no way is it a regulatory measure. It only provides for uniform forms to be used by various justices of the peace and aldermen in counties that desire to take advantage of this bill. Any counties that do not desire to take advantage of the bill and furnish these forms to their aldermen and justices of the peace, are not required to take advantage of the provisions of the bill. Therefore I ask the members of the House to vote for the bill and give those counties who want to furnish the forms the opportunity to furnish them.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think Mr. Fleming has a good idea in mind but I am wondering whether or not he has considered the imperfections in this bill insofar as they relate to the constitutionality of it. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny briefly on that question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny if it is not a fact that justices of the peace and aldermen are constitutional officers.

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not he is familiar with the case know as the McNair case decided by the Supreme Court last year, which had to do with interference with the rights of certain courts of the minor judiciary by a certain procedure in the Court of Quarter Sessions in Allegheny county.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman that I am somewhat familiar with it but certainly not as much so as he would be.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman whether or not if a controller would refuse to issue a form, would the justice of the peace then be prevented from carrying on the duties of his office except under penalty of fine, under this bill.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, it would be my belief that a controller who would refuse to issue the forms to a duly elected justice of the peace or alderman would himself be guilty of malfeasance or misfeasance in office, and could be brought to trial for it.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, that does not answer my question. If a controller refused to issue a form under this act, and if a justice of the peace was to carry on his office which is given to him under the Constitution, would he not then be subject to a penalty if he used any form except the form which should have been provided by the controller.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, no.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman how he arrives at that conclusion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman should make his statements more brief.

Mr. FLEMINC. Mr. Speaker, no sir.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman is becoming loquacious.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that we ought to have uniform forms for the minor judiciary and I believe this is a good idea, but you see we cannot have a bill of this kind. Here is a bill that says that a controller shall issue forms. The controller could close up his office and go on his way, the justice of the peace needs forms but he cannot use his own forms and he cannot perform his constitutional office if he uses any other warrant except the warrant provided by the controller. If he does he is subject to a penalty. Certainly that was never intended under the Constitution, that the one officer should so ham-string another officer so as to prevent that officer from performing his duties. I therefore ask the gentleman from Allegheny, since he has a good idea to let the bill go over or place it on the postponed calendar and see if we cannot make the bill workable. I feel certain under this bill we have nothing except some printing, and it will be stricken down by the court.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 649, entitled:

An Act to add clause twenty-one to section seven hundred and two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by authorizing appropriations for the support maintenance discipline and training of units of the National Guard and regulating the expenditure and accounting of such moneys

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 484, entitled:

An Act requiring the Department of the Auditor General to examine and audit the dockets and accounts of justices of the peace, aldermen and magistrates and prohibiting any other department officer or agency of the State Government from so doing

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Moser.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I have just been consulted, and I would like to yield to my colleague, the gentleman from York, Mr. Herbert B. Cohen.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Moser whether it was not his intention at the time he introduced this bill to restrict the Department of Revenue from making an audit of the justices of the peace and of the magistrates?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. It was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that in Committee the restriction instead of following the intent of the gentleman from Lehigh, as applying to the Department of Revenue, was amended so that it applied to the Auditor General?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, the bill was returned from the floor of the House for amendment in Committee.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, was it amended in committee so that it restricted the Auditor General rather than the bill as it was originally introduced by you, restricting the Department of Revenue?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, I had the amendments prepared and submitted them to the committee.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill has been changed, is that correct?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Lehigh why the change was found necessary?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, well for the simple reason that they could work out of the Revenue Department just as well as out of the Auditor General's office.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman realize that by restricting the auditing of magistrates' accounts to the Department of Revenue he has a situation whereby the collecting agency would be auditing its own work?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, it would. They would also be doing the work for the Auditor General's Department.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Do I understand from the sponsor of this bill that the bill as it is presently before the House provides that the same department that is doing the collecting will audit its own work?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, it has been doing that since 1927.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman whether under the Acts of 1927 the Department of Revenue's work was not also audited by the Auditor General?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, the Act was placed upon the statute books in 1927 under the fiscal code, and therefor it could not be under both Departments.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Do I understand that the Auditor General also audited the Department of Revenue?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Since 1929, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. The bill as now presented in the House would mean that the Department of Revenue would be the only agency making these collections and making the audits, and their work would not be supervised by the Auditor General or audited by the Auditor General.

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, they are able to do that work.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not questioning that. My question is whether this bill does not provide that the Department of Revenue will make the collections and will audit its own work without any audit by the Auditor General.

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, they audit the books. They do not collect.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, does this act not restrict the Auditor General and deprive the Auditor General of the right of auditing the books of magistrates and justices of the peace?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, it does. It is not necessary to have two sets of auditors.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lehigh inform this House how the Auditor General can audit the books of the Department of Revenue, without going to the original books of the justices of the peace and audit them to determine whether or not the Department of Revenue has performed its work in a proper manner?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, that is information they should be able to obtain from the Revenue Department.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would that not mean that the Auditor General would make that audit without going to the original source to determine whether or not it is correct?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, the Revenue Department can furnish the Auditor General with any information he may desire.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would the Auditor General under those circumstances have any check on the work done by the Department of Revenue?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. He would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. How?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Through the Revenue Department, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, how would the Auditor General check on that work?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, through the Revenue Department.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would not the Auditor General, under the plan of the gentleman from Lehigh be forced to accept the report of the Department of Revenue as to the status of the accounts of justices of the peace as being officially correct?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, he would.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the Auditor General would then be denied the right of ascertaining the accuracy of those accounts under this bill, is that not correct?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, he would receive this information and whatever other information he would need from the Revenue Department.

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM THE CALENDAR

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot conceive that it is the intention of this House to destroy a situation and check that has existed in this Commonwealth for some time, to destroy the functions of a constitutional officer empowered from time immemorial to conduct the auditing of the various departments and bureaus of the Commonwealth. This bill, in an attempt to alleviate the aldermen and justices of the peace from what they considered to be a multiplicity of investigations, audits or collections, or what not, says to a constitutional officer elected and empowered to make audits, "You cannot go back to the original source to determine whether the work of the department of Revenue is or is not correct." It is a situation similar to that which arose in the McKesson-Robbins case, where the auditor did not go back to determine whether or not the inventories were there, with the result that the stockholders of McKesson-Robbins have been subjected to losses about which we have been publicly acquainted. This bill would say that the Auditor General cannot determine whether or not the collections under the Department of Revenue are correct.

I cannot conceive that it is the desire of the membership of this House to pass that type of legislation and I therefore, in view of numerous conversations I have had with the membership, move Mr. Speaker, that House Bill No. 484, Printer's No. 351 be dropped from the calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the idea which prompted me to introduce this bill is this: Some months ago I happened to be in one of the upstate counties. I dropped into an alderman's office, and had a conversation with him. Before that two or three men left his office and he told me that the auditors had been there to audit his books. I said, "That is fine, how did you get along?" While we were talking a second group of auditors came in and they remained there about an hour and a half rechecking after the other set of auditors had been there. I thought it was unnecessary to have two sets of auditors traveling over the state of Pennsylvania, when one set would be sufficient.

I ask, Mr. Speaker, that this motion be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot conceive that the membership of this House is willing to take a situation which has arisen just because an alderman or a squire up in some central county feels that he does not want to be exposed to a multiplicity of investigations, and that they should take a situation such as that to undermine a long-standing procedure in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is very bad government to have the same party making the collections make the audits. You men would not do that in your business. You would not justify a situation such as that in your own activities. I cannot see how we can justify a situation such as that in the business of the Commonwealth. They are always talking about the fact that there is too much government in business. I have always maintained that we ought to put a little business in government. We ought to say in our duties that we are going to apply the same rules that we do in our own individual activities, and we surely would not allow any of our employees, if they were out collecting money, allow the same employees to be the ones that would audit their own collections. That is just exactly what the sponsor now intends to accomplish. I can easily see that the gentleman at its very inception did not have that idea in mind, because the bill as originally presented in the House would have deprived the Department of Revenue from going in to make audits and would have allowed the Auditor General to continue his time-worn duties of making audits, but somewhere during the passage of this bill someone has prevailed upon the gentleman to so change the bill that the purpose the gentleman had in mind has been lost, and now a greater problem is placed before the membership of this House.

Let me tell you that when the General State Authority was established, just to show you how the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has definitely adhered to dual auditing, when the General State Authority was established, due to the fact that the Auditor General was a member of the General State Authority, the act establishing the General State Authority provided that the audits of the General State Authority should be done by the Department of Revenue. The authors of the bill realized that due to the fact that the Auditor General was a member of the General State Authoriy, it was not good government to have the Auditor General conduct the audits of a department that he himself was a member of.

Still in this situation, in order to overcome something that might be an inconvenience to some squires or aldermen or justices of the peace of the Commonwealth, in order to obviate that inconvenience we are now confronted with the problem of saying to the Department of Revenue, and this is no reflection on that Department of Revenue them or an other Department of Revenue, it is a reflection on ourselves that we should even think about doing that—we are saying to the Department of Revenue, "You will go out and make these collections and after you make the collections you go out and audit your own accounts." I say that we would not have that done in our own individual business, and I recommend to the House that they surely should not allow that to be done in the business of the Commonwealth.

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the remark that Mr. Cohen has made when he stated that the Revenue Department was collecting their own accounts—I wish to say that the revenue department receives and does not pay.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 34.

An Act to further amend section five hundred eight of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special, or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by further regulating the incurring of temporary indebtedness and the repayment thereof.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 576

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governors Office, Harrisburg, April 25, 1939.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 576, Printer's No. 162, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

ARTHUR H. JAMES

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Habbyshaw, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1, line 3 of the title, by striking out at the beginning of the line the following: "[thirty-three]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "thirty-four".

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 2 by striking out at the end of the line the following: "[thirty-]".

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 3 by striking out at the beginning of the line the following: "[three]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "thirty-four".

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 29 by striking out at the end of the line, in boldface brackets, the following: "[forty-two]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "[forty] forty-two".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. CORTESE.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 95, entitled:

An Act authorizing the sale of real estate under a judgment obtained on a tax claim or claims to be made by the sheriff, free and clear of tax and municipal claims, for a sum less than the total amount of delinquent tax and municipal claims, under certain conditions, and providing for the distribution of the sum realized upon such sales and for the procedure in such cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, without intending to be critical of the Republican platform during the last election—I stopped criticizing them at eleven o'clock on the evening of November 7th—I would like to point out that this bill, although it is not so generally known, may be the first redemption or partial redemption of the pledge of the Republican party to bring employment back to Pennsylvania.

In Philadelphia for many years past the great Cramp shipyards have been floundering in the dust along the banks of the Delaware river because of the inability of the operating managers of that plant to meet the huge piling up of taxes on the real estate covered by that plant. That, together with the pressing circumstances in the shipyards has resulted in this great industry not being able to gain a foothold and getting back on their feet. For several years various committees have attempted, without any success whatsoever, to begin this industry over again, but they have failed because there has always been one major obstacle in the way, and that was their inability to raise upwards of one million dollars to pay back taxes on the land of the Cramp shipyard. This piece of legislation today for the first time gives some ray of hope to the committee which has been working very diligently for the past several months endeavoring to rehabilitate the plant so that Philadelphia might get its proper share of the boom in the shipbuilding business, which is now evident in all the shipyards in America. If the city of Philadelphia is willing under the provisions of this bill to agree as the bill provides under court supervision, to a compromise in the amount of taxes which are due, I feel sure that the committee which has been down in Washington hoping for Federal aid will be able to get other persons so interested that the plant may open in the near future.

For this reason, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask the Democratic members of the House to help this administration redeem one of the major planks in the last campaign, a platform that is to bring reemployment back to Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Vol. 23. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1939. No. 43.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 26, 1939.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

Our Blessed God, amidst the beauty of resurrected nature and the increasing evidence of Thy handiwork in the unfolding loveliness of the springtime, our hearts would truly be thankful for these manifestations of Thy goodness and mercy and love to us Thy children.

We feel the inner urge of the very best that is in us to strive more diligently to be worthy of the benefactions showered so copiously upon us and with which production we have nothing whatever to do. Whether one be righteous or unrighteous, just or unjust, bonded or free, Jew or Gentile, Thy goodness is provided alike unto us all.

Of a certainty the Psalmist was voicing the same expression of Divine goodness bestowed upon man even though unworthy, as we entertain today, when he exclaimed: "What is man that Thou art mindful of him, or the son of man that Thou visitest him?"

So amidst the changing scenes of our work-a-day lives, Thou rememberest us with Thy goodness and mercy and we humbly pray for this divine continuance today, for should it be removed for just a moment, we must die. For Thy name's sake we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. GELDER and Mr. OWLETT, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL NO. 186

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 186, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection twelve of section seven hundred and two of the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103), entitled: "An act concerning townships of the second class; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," by empowering townships of the second class to prohibit the storage of abandoned and junked automobiles.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

Mr. WOLFENDEN, by request, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 731, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 599), entitled "An act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions, together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment, prelude, playing, or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday; prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions, and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment, prelude, playing, or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours, and also during other hours, unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof; regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday; providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors; and providing penalties; and repealing inconsistent laws."

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 310, (House Bill No. 610), entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts, page 74), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven" by lapsing a portion of the unobligated balance of the appropriation made to the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the use of the Commission on Interstate Cooperation and re-appropriating such lapsed moneys to the said Chief Clerk for the use of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—46

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 278, (House Bill No. 38), entitled:

An Act to amend sections Three, Four, Five, Nine and Eleven of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 463), entitled (as amended) "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of 'Authorities' for municipalities counties and townships defining the same prescribing the rights, powers and duties of such Authorities, authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and for other purposes" as amended by omitting the requirement that the resolution or ordinance of the intention to organize an Authority shall set forth the proposed Articles of Incorporation regulating the publication of such resolutions and ordinances by including waterworks, water distribution systems, low head dams and parts of sewer systems as projects by authorizing the municipalities to limit the projects to be undertaken by an Authority by authorizing a longer term for the bonds issued by an Authority avoiding competition with existing enterprises and by including waterworks water supply works water distribution systems and parts of sewer systems as facilities which may be transferred to an Authority by any owner in addition to the Commonwealth and the political subdivision thereof and authorizing authorities to acquire water and water rights subject to the approval of the Water and Power Resources Board.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 15, line 11, by striking out the word: involved

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator from Tioga if he will not explain the purpose of the proposed amendment, and if it deals with the clause that makes bonds of municipal authorities legal investments for fiduciaries.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the amendments merely correct a printer's error in the bill. The brackets had been placed in the wrong place on page 15, and the bill still provides that the bonds are legal investments for trust funds.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, it seems to me that this bill ought to be considered a little further on that phase. There are a number of bills pending here at the present time which make certain kinds of securities that comes from certain kinds of Federal institutions legal investments for fiduciaries. Now, we have a good Fiduciary Law in Pennsylvania and it is rather narrowly limited, the standard is high, and it seems to me that standard ought not to be broken down without due cause.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I would like to move that Senate Bill No. 278 be re-referred to a committee for further study.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have no objection to the motion, and I have no interest in the bill myself, except I understand that some of the members of the House are very much interested in this bill because of a provision which permits the acquisition of water works by several municipalities, and I understand they are exceedingly interested in having these bonds legal investments for financcing a number of improvements in the Senator from Montgomery's section of the State. I know there would be serious objection in the House to the Senate taking that clause out.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I am only asking as a matter of information, but does the Senator from Tioga know what the security is back of these bonds which would justify a fiduciary in investing in them? We have tried to limit investments to bonds that have a real value back of them, so that if the thing goes wrong there is at least real value upon which collection can be made. Is there such tangible value back of these bonds?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this is, as I understand it, a Municipality Authority Act and under that Act authority is set up to construct some public project and the project as set up provides for the payment of interest and sinking fund for the bonds and that of course obligates the municipality.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, are they municipal bonds?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, they are not municipal bonds; they are only bonds of the Authority, the same as the State Authority bonds.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if we pass this bill we are going to be in the position of having bankers say we exercise more control over their investments of fiduciary funds than we do over State Authorities. In other words, as the Senator from Montgomery has pointed out, we have set certain standards up in the Fiduciary Act covering almost all phases of investments for estates by fiduciaries. We have provided with respect to the value of the property, to the extent to which a loan may be granted over the value, and here is a bill which simply says from now on a State Authority bond issued by any State Authority for water works is a valid investment.

The only security back of that is a contract which the State Authority will have with the locality, city or municipality, to pay a certain amount of rent; and if a situation like that arose in Philadelphia today those bonds would be in default because the City of Philadelphia would not be able to pay the rent; and yet we would say that is a perfectly good investment for a fiduciary to make.

Now, under those circumstances I join with the gentleman from Montgomery in asking that something be done to postpone passage of this bill at this time, and I would second his motion to send it back to committee at this time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I will withdraw my motion, with the assurance of the Senator from Tioga that the bill will be placed on the postponed calendar so that we may have some additional time in which to consider the matter.

The PRESIDENT. Does the seconder withdraw his seconding of the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the amendments I introduced are merely corrections and I suggest that the bill be amended and placed on the postponed calendar.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senator agree to the amendments?

Agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill as amended?

It was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 344, (House Bill No. 575), entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from current revenues levied assessed collectible and accruing during such two fiscal years defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 2, page 3, by adding between lines 24 and 25 the following new paragraph: S (c) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall have the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of the Commonwealth. Amend section 2, page 3, line 25 by striking out at the beginning of the line the following: S [(c)] and inserting in lieu thereof the following: (d)

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 543, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class; creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment, Appeals and Review; imposing duties on certain county and city officers; abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties; and prescribing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, this bill and the next bill on the calendar, Senate Bill No. 544, change the method of assessing property in Allegheny County. I intend to vote in favor of both these bills but before casting my vote I would like to have some assurances from the sponsor of those bills concerning some of their features.

Mr. President, in Allegheny County the City of Pittsburgh assesses some property, some types of property, which the county does not assess and the county assesses some types of property which the city does not assess. First, the city of Pittsburgh, under the Act of 1859, collects a tax from all railway properties excepting the right of way, and the county collects only a tax from the right of way, and I would like to have some assurances from the sponsor of this Bill, No. 543, and the following Bill, No. 544, that they do not change our present situation.

Also, Mr. President, under the Act of 1913 the City of Pittsburgh places a tax on land twice that imposed on the building. In other words, we have a graduated tax Act in Pittsburgh and I would like some assurance on the record from the sponsor of this bill and the next bill that our graduated tax Act of 1913 is not adversely affected by either or both of those bills.

Also, Mr. President, the County of Allegheny collects a tax from machinery; the City of Pittsburgh does not. I would like to have some assurance from the sponsor of these bills on the record to the effect that nothing in those bills adversely affects that situation.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, to repeat that last sentence. He said that the City of Pittsburgh is collecting a tax on something and I did not catch what it was on.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I said machinery.

Mr. EDMONDS. Machinery, Mr. President?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Yes, Mr. President. The County of Allegheny assesses and collects a tax from machinery of various types. Pittsburgh pay no regard at all to machinery, and, as I said before, I would like to have assurance from the sponsor that that present situation is not adversely affected by this proposed legislation. I would only feel completely safe—although as I have said, I am going to vote for these bills—if I had in my hand a written opinion from the Attorney General stating definitely that our situation in regard to those three items has not been and will not be changed by these bills.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I deeply appreciate the opportunity to answer the questions prepared by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen. The remarks of the Senator from Allegheny may be divided into three parts. In regard to the first part, under the Act of 1859, Pamphlet Laws 828, the City of Pittsburgh had the right to tax railroad property located within the city. Now, if I may discuss these two bills together, in order to completely answer the question of the Senator from Allegheny propounded to me as to Bill No. 544, on page 1, beginning line 6, the bill reads: "It shall be the duty of the proper county taxing authorities to assess all property in cities of the second class, whether real or personal, taxable under any general, special or local laws for city purposes."

Now, there is a specific requirement that railroad properties taxed for city purposes under this act of 1859 be assessed by the county assessors. More specific language than this cannot be used without violating the Constitutional prohibition against special legislation. The Act of 1859 itself, under which the taxes are levied is, of course, not disturbed, and the city will continue to levy the tax under the provisions of that Act.

But now, Mr. President, the second inquiry propounded by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, was with regard to the graded tax under Act 147 of 1913, Pamphlet Law 209, and there again I must refer to Senate Bill No. 544, reading from pages 1 and 2, where it says "It shall be the duty of the proper county taxing authorities to assess all property in cities of the second class whether real or personable taxable under any general special or local law for city purposes."

Then, skipping over to page 2, line 4: "to classify all real property in such cities in such manner and upon such testimony as may be adduced before them, so as to distinguish between the buildings on land and the land exclusive of the buildings."

Now, Mr. President, this will furnish to the city the necessary separation of land and improvements, under which separate levies can be made in accordance with the Act of 1913, and its further amendments, which are not disturbed in this respect by the two bills. The powers and duties of the City Council, who make the levies, are expressely saved in the repealer of the assessment provisions in the Second Class City Law.

Now, both Senate Bills No. 543 and Senate Bill No. 544 deal exclusively with the machinery for making tax assessments. In no respect do they enter the field of designated subjects of taxation or tax levies. It is, therefore, quite impossible to construe anything in either Act as authorizing or requiring the City of Pittsburgh to levy taxes on machinery or any other subject of taxation which may not now be taxed for the purposes of cities of the second class."

This matter was very carefully looked into by the Legislative Reference Bureau and by the Attorney General's office, and that is the consensus of opinion arrived at by those two bodies.

I am sorry I cannot furnish my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, with a written opinion from the Attorney General's office at this time. This is the expressed opinion of the Legislative Reference Bureau and I think it is of sound reason, because these two bills deal with the machinery for levying assessments and do not deal with the object of the assessments themself. I think that the Senators mental objections to the Act are fully and completely covered.

Mr. EDMONDS: Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, as I understand it, it assesses the value of land and buildings separate, is that correct?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I cannot answer that. Under the Act of 1913 they are allowed to assess the buildings on the land and the land exclusive of the building; but I would not now undertake to say whether they tax twice the value of the land.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, my question was whether, for county tax purposes, the same differential was used.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I understand exclusive of city taxes.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I understand from the statement of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, and also the statement made by the other Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, that is not their intention, nor the intention behind this bill, in any way, affect the classes of taxable property.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that is correct. The purpose of the Act is merely to set up the machinery by which assessments are made and does not deal with the subject matter of the assessments.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask that question so as to make certain that the legislative intent behind this Act is not in any way to interfere with the classes of taxable property, but that these bills deal merely with the machinery of making assessments.

Mr. WALKER. That, Mr. President, is the purpose of the sponsor.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—44.

Edmonds,	Jaspan,	Rice.	Woodward,

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 544, entitled:

An Act to promote uniformity in the assessment and taxation of properties and persons within the territorial limits of cities of the second class by providing that city taxes within such territorial limits shall be assessed, levied and collected upon the basis of the county assessments; imposing duties on county taxing authorities; abolishing the department of assessors in cities of the second class and transferring certain property to county taxing authorities.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows. viz:

Section 206 Completion of Nomination Within ten days after the filing of a nominating petition the election authorities shall notify the person named therein as a candidate whether the petition is found to satisfy all the prescribed conditions If the person is informed that the petition does not satisfy all the prescribed conditions he shall have five days from the date of the receipt of the notice to comply with the prescribed conditions If he is informed that the petition does satisfy all the prescribed conditions or if he complete and accept the nomination or if he receives as as provided herein he shall have fifteen days after the last day for filing nomination petitions to file with the election authorities a written acceptance of the nomination The names of only those persons who file such acceptances shall be printed on the ballots as candidates for council

Section 207 Return of Filing Fee If the candidate does not complete and accept the nomination or if he receives as many as 10,000 votes at any stage during the election count the filing fee shall be returned but otherwise the filing fee shall be retained by the city

Section 208 Ballots The ballots and ballot boxes to be used in electing council shall be separate and distinct from those used for any other office or question The ballots for the election of council shall differ from other ballots in the following respects

(a) Series of Ballots by Rotation of Names The ballots shall be printed in as many different series as there are candidates for council Each series of ballots shall be given a series number Series number 1 shall list the names of the candidates in alphabetical order series number 2 shall list the names in the same order except that the first name shall appear last and so on with the remaining series

(b) Party Designations After the name of a candidate on the ballot shall appear the name of his political party if but only if he shall in writing request the election authorities to make such designation and they shall find that he is duly registered as a voter of that party and that it is a political party as defined by law

(c) Space for Other Candidates There shall be at least eleven blank spaces for writing names below the printed names of the candidates and such spaces shall be preceded by voting squares as in the case of printed names Below such spaces there shall be conspicuously printed "Spaces Above May Be Used for Voting for Additional Candidates"

(d) Instructions to Voters The following instructions to voters shall be printed on each ballot

INSTRUCTIONS

Make your choices with Numbers only Do Not use X marks

Put the number 1 in the square opposite the name of your first choice

Put the number 2 opposite your second choice the number 3 opposite your third choice and so on You may mark as many choices as you please

Do not put the same number opposite more than one name

If you tear or deface or wrongly mark this ballot return it and obtain another

Section 209 Distribution of Ballots in Tablet Form The ballots shall be prepared in tablet form so that each tablet will contain an equal number of ballots from each series arranged in such combinations that two ballots of the same series will not be next to each other The tablets of ballots prepared in the manner herein designated shall be distributed to the election districts

Section 210 Central Collection As soon as the polls have closed the election officers at each polling place shall without opening it seal the ballot box used for ballots for council and send it at once as directed by the election authorities together with a record of the number of ballots for council which have been voted in the polling place to a central counting place designated by the election authorities

Section 211 Counting Personnel The election authorities shall appoint pursuant to civil service requirements a counting director as the head of the personnel for the counting of ballots for council The counting director shall appoint pursuant to civil service requirements a sufficient staff of assistants

Section 212 Checking Ballots in Boxes At the central counting place the ballots found in each ballot box shall be marked so as to identify them thereafter as from that box and the total number of ballots shall be ascertained The total number shall be recorded and compared with the record sent from the corresponding polling place The result of this comparison shall be made available to the public with notations setting forth corrections changes and discrepancies All ballots found in the ballot box which bear no evidence of being improperly cast shall be accepted

Section 213 Arrangement of Ballots The ballots shall be arranged in packages in the following order of election districts the first district of the first ward the first district of the second ward the first district of the third ward and so on through the wards then the second districts in the numerical order of the wards the third districts in the same order and so on through all the districts

Section 214 Sorting of Ballots The ballots of each election district shall be sorted according to (1) the first choices marked on them (2) the invalid ballots and (3) blank ballots

Section 215 Rules for Validity If a ballot does not clearly indicate which candidate the voter prefers to all others or if it is so marked not in accordance with the instructions to voters printed on it or with the specific provisions for valid ballots in this section as to be readily capable of identification it shall not be counted and shall be invalid Every other ballot shall be sorted according to the apparent intent of the voter so far as that can be clearly ascertained whether or not marked according to the instructions printed on it or the specific provisions for valid ballots in this section Any cross mark shall be disregarded except that if there is a single cross marked on a ballot on which no number 1 appears the cross mark shall be considered equivalent to the number 1 If the number 1 is omitted or if the consecutive numerical order of the numbers on a ballot is broken by the omission of one or more numbers the smallest number marked shall be taken to indicate the first choice the next smallest the second choice and so on without regard to the number or numbers omitted

Section 216 Numbering and Counting Ballots The ballots which each candidate receives in each election district shall be numbered consecutively and the total number of ballots for each candidate shall be ascertained The invalid and blank ballots shall be similarly numbered

Section 217 Limited Vote Each candidate shall be credited with every valid ballot counted to him as first choice or which may subsequently be counted to him as hereinafter provided no ballot shall be credited to more than one candidate at the same time

Section 218 Quota The quota of votes sufficient to elect a councilman shall be one-twelfth of the whole number of valid ballots disregarding fractions plus one

Section 219 Election of Candidates Receiving the Quota Transfer of Extra Ballots Those candidates who have a quota or more shall be declared elected The candidate with the largest number of ballots on which he is designated as first choice shall be declared elected first If two or more candidates have ballots in excess of the quota the excesses shall be transferred in the order of their sizes For each such transfer there shall be selected by lot an election district from which the first ballots for transfer shall be taken Any additional excess shall be taken from the remaining election districts in the order in which they have been arranged ballots of the first election district of the first ward to be taken after those of the last election district of the last ward In taking ballots from any election district for this purpose the transfer shall be made in the ascending order in which the ballots are numbered If a ballot shows only choices for candidates already elected it shall be temporarily set aside until all the extra ballots of the elected candidate have been transferred Such ballots shall then be substituted for an equal number of ballots which show a choice for an unelected candidate taken in continuation of the order of transfer herein stated Whenever a candidate receives enough transferred ballots to complete his quota he shall be declared elected and no more ballots shall be transferred to him

Section 220 Minimum Vote Requirement After the completion of the transfers of extra ballots every candidate credited with fewer than 1,000 ballots shall be declared defeated

Section 221 Transfer of Ballots of Defeated Candidates The ballots which were credited to candidates who are declared defeated shall be transferred each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the continuing candidates A "continuing candidate" is a candidate not yet elected or defeated Any ballot of a defeated candidate taken for transfer which does not clearly indicate any continuing candidate as next choice shall be set aside as exhausted If a ballot has the same choice for two or more candidates the duplicated choices shall be disregarded except as to continuing candidates If two or more of the candidates marked with the duplicated choice are continuing and all previous choices have been elected or defeated the ballot shall be set aside as exhausted

Section 222 Defeat of Other Candidates After the transfer of the ballots as provided above the candidate with the least amount of votes shall be declared defeated and each ballot credited to him shall be transferred to the continuing candidate indicated thereon as next choice After this transfer the candidate then lowest shall be declared defeated and each ballot shall be transferred to the continuing candidate indicated thereon as next choice and so on

Section 223 Ties In deciding any tie a candidate shall be treated as having more votes than another if he was credited with more votes at the end of the last preceding transfer or crediting of ballots at which the numbers of their votes were different Any tie not thus decided shall be decided by lot

Section 224 Completion of Count The count shall proceed with the transfer of ballots until eleven candidates have been declared elected or until the number of the continuing candidates is equal to the number of councilmen still to be elected In either event there shall be completed the transfer of the ballots of the last candidate defeated when the successful candidates are all determined

Section 225 Recount Every ballot which is transferred from one candidate to another shall be so stamped or marked as to indicate the candidate or candidates to whom it has been credited If in correcting an error or in recounting ballots for any other purpose any ballots are resorted or retransferred every ballot shall be made to take the same course which it took in the original count unless the correction of an error requires its taking a different course

Section 226 Witnessing the Count The following shall be entitled to witness the count

(a) Candidates and Representatives Each candidate may personally witness the count and may appoint three representatives with authority to move anywhere within the central counting place but not more than one of the three persons authorized to represent each candidate shall have the right to be within the central counting place at the same time The appointment of representatives shall be made by written communication to the election authorities at least five days before the election

(b) Election Authorities The election authorities may witness the count and examine all proceedings They may decide any dispute arising in the count of the ballots

(c) News Representatives and Public So far as may be consistent with good order and convenience news representatives and the public shall be afforded every facility for being present and witnessing the count.

Section 227 Examination of Ballots After Election The ballots cast at each election shall be preserved by the election authorities so as to keep separate (1) the ballots of each elected candidate (2) the exhausted ballots (3) the invalid ballots and (4) the blank ballots until the term of the council elected thereat has expired The ballots shall be available for inspection under the close supervision of the election authorities on written application signed by 100 or more voters and the payment of $25.00 for each day on which such inspection is held

Section 228 Publication of Information Before December fifteenth following each election of council the election authorities shall make public for each election district the number of (1) first-choice votes for each candidate (2) invalid ballots (3) blank ballots and (4) such other information about the ballots as the election authorities may deem of interest or council may require

Section 229 Mechanical Devices Council shall have the power to provide for the use of mechanical or other devices for voting or for counting votes for council in accordance with the principles set forth herein For this purpose council may modify the form of the ballot the arrangement of names on the ballot the method of expressing choices and the arrangements for conducting the election and the count but no change shall be made which will alter or impair the principles of the voting or of the counting

Section 230 Vacancies in Council If a vacancy occurs in council the election authorities of the city shall recount all the ballots of the person whose office is vacant together with the exhausted ballots The recount shall be conducted as provided for the count in an election of members of council and all candidates who remain eligible shall be candidates to fill the vacancy except candidates previously elected The quota shall be the same number as at the original election for the term in which the vacancy occurs and as many persons shall be elected as there are vacancies to be filled If there is no eligible candidate to fill a vacancy it shall be filled by a majority vote of the remaining councilmen in office

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McGINNIS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 732, entitled:

An Act requiring State-aided hospitals to negotiate and conclude contracts with certain non-profit service associations as a condition precedent to obtaining such State-aid.

Which was committed to Committee on Public Health

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his quesion of information.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I heard the Secretary of the Senate announce that we have a meeting at the hour of 8 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday, and that is an unhealthy hour in the first place.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair agrees with the Senator from Philadelphia.

Mr. SHAPIRO. In the second place, Mr. President, I would like you to understand that that meeting is only possible because the Chairman of that Committee goes to sleep at six o'clock in the afternoon—sometimes at three o'clock here. He has not stated whether this is Daylight Saving Time or Standard Time. That is another question, because, if it is standard time, we will be up here at seven o'clock.

Mr. PRESIDENT, may I interrogate the Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Secretary of the Senate has mistakenly announced a meeting of the Committee on Public Health at 8 o'clock, a. m.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it that not p. m.?

Mr. CHAPMAN. No. Mr. President, it is a. m.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Standard Time, Mr. President.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, Standard Time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Warren state where he sleeps?

Mr. CHAPMAN. At the Penn-Harris Hotel, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. At the Penn-Harris Hotel, Mr. President, and not in the Senate?

Mr. CHAPMAN. No. Mr. President, not in the Senate. I told the committee to get up early so that they would not get bed sores.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Warren state whether or not that is Standard or Central time.

Mr. CHAPMAN. It is Standard Time, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That means seven o'clock Daylight Saving Time, does it not, Mr. President?

Mr. CHAPMAN. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will be seeing the Senator.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not think the Senator from Philadelphia heard the reply of the Senator from Warren. The Senator from Warren said he did not want the members of the Committee to get bed sores.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I thought he did not want the committee to get there.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, April 27, 1939 at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President. I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 3:43 o'clock p. m. until Thursday, April 27, 1939, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 26, 1939.

The House met at 1 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Rev. Dr. Frank M. Urich, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Philadelphia, Pa., offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Eternal God, author and source of all good, in whose eternal purposes all the generations of men have lived and moved, we approach Thee with a profound sense of Thine unspeakable grace, and we give Thee thanks for Thy great mercies to us as a people. Help Thy world, O God, to walk in the way of justice and righteousness. May our loyalty to country lift our leaders to high endeavors and make us faithful in following them toward the mark which Thou hast set for our nation. Give us, we pray, wisdom large enough to make life secure and loving kindness broad enough to make life a blessing.

Grant, we pray Thee, also health and prosperity to all that are in authority, especially to the President and Congress of the United States, the Governor and Legislature of this Commonwealth, and to all our judges and magistrates, and imbue them with grace to rule after Thy good pleasure, to the maintenance of peace and righteousness and to the hindrance and punishment of wickedness.

Bless we implore Thee, the deliberations of this august body, representative of the rights and interests of the people of this sovereign state.

And grant us by Thy grace uninterrupted progress toward that day when Thy Kingdom shall come and Thy will be done on earth as it is in haven. We ask it in the name of Christ Jesus, our Saviour. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks Dr. Urich.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

SENATE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, April 25, 1939.

Whereas, Florence Nightingale was born May 12, 1820 and devoted the greater part of her natural life to alleviate the sufferings of human beings by promoting the organization of modern nursing units through the entire world, in time of war and as well as in time of peace, and

Whereas, her devotion to such cause has contributed incalculably to the alleviation of suffering of human beings in the Hospitals and other similar institutions throughout the world, and

Whereas, the date of her birth is marked with memorial activities in Hospitals throughout many states of this United States, and

Whereas, it is fitting and proper that Hospitals and other similiar institutions in this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should in some degree commemorate her natal day as a tribute to her sacrifices

Therefore Be It Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urges the setting aside of May 12 as Hospital Day for the commemoration of the birth of Florence Nightingale and urges upon all Hospitals the planning of its celebration in a manner expedient and fitting, and

Be It Further Resolved, that the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby urged to issue his proclamation further urging the Hospitals of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to join in such commemoration of Hospital Day.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Section 3 The application when signed as aforesaid shall be laid before the annexing city of the second class council borough council or annexing township commissioners of such contiguous second class city borough or contiguous first class township to which said applicants desire to become a part or annexed. If such contiguous second class city borough council or contiguous first class township commissioners approve the prayer of the petitioners the application and approval thereof as aforesaid shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions filed of record in the office of the clerk of courts and written notice thereof served upon the secretary of the township commissioners of the first class township whose residents desire to withdraw which said township may file an answer within ten days from the date of service of the aforesaid notice At the expiration of said ten day period the court shall upon motion of counsel for petitioners fix a date for hearing which date shall be not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days thereafter notice of which shall be served upon all counsel appearing of record for parties in interest If the court is satisfied that the requirements of the law have been complied with it shall make an order altering the boundary lines of such first class township by taking from such first class township the lands described in the petition and adding same to such contiguous city of the second class borough or other contiguous first class township

Section 4 Where a part of any township of the first class is annexed by a city of the second class borough or other township of the first class the township officers and the council of the annexing city of the second class borough or annexing township shall make a just and proper adjustment and apportionment of the assets and liabilities of said township from which a part is being annexed When making such adjustment and apportionment the annexing city of the second class borough or other township of the first class shall share in a division of the assets and indebtedness of the township from which a part is being annexed in the same proportion that the last preceding assessed valuation of the territory annexed bears to the total last preceding valuation of the entire township from which a part is being annexed The adjustment and apportionment as made shall be reduced to writing in proper form to be duly executed and acknowledged by the proper officers of said township from which a part is being annexed and annexing city of the second class borough or other township of the first class and be filed in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county in which said city of the second class borough or other township of the first class is located

Section 5 In the event the council of the annexing city of the second class borough or other township of the first class and said township authorities cannot make such amicable adjustment of the assets and liabilities of the township from which a part is being annexed in compliance with this act within sixty days after such annexation then the council of said city of the second class borough or the proper officers of the annexing township of the first class or a proper officer of the township may present a petition to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the annexing city of the second class borough or other township of the first class is located whereupon the court shall appoint disinterested commissioners residents and taxpayers of the county in which the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class is situate not residing in the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class nor in the township from which a part is being annexed who after hearing notice of which shall be given to the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class and township from which a part is being annexed interested as the court shall direct shall make report to the court making an apportionment and adjustment between the township from which a part is being annexed and the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class of all assets and liabilities of the township from which a part is being annexed said report to state the amount if any that shall be due and payable by the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class to the township from which a part is being annexed or by the township to the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class as well as the amount of indebtedness if any that shall be assumed by the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or by the township from which a part is being annexed or by both or any of them

Section 6 The commissioners will give the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class and the township from which a part is being annexed at least five days' notice of the filing of their report and unless exceptions are filed thereto by the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or by the township from which a part is being annexed within thirty days after filing thereof the same shall be confirmed by the court absolutely and any sum awarded by said report to the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or township from which a part is being annexed charged therewith and the amount of debt if any apportioned to any city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or township from which a part is being annexed shall be a legal and valid claim against such city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or township from which a part is being annexed charged therewith any property real or personal given and adjudged to the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or the township from which a part is being annexed shall become and be the porperty of the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or the township from which a part is being annexed to whichever one the same is given and adjudged and upon such report being confirmed such claim or indebtedness charged against any city of the second class borough or other township of the first class or against any township from which a part is being annexed may be collected in the same manner as a judgment is collected against any city of the second class borough or township Such commissioners shall be allowed five dollars per day for each day actually spent by them in the performance of their duties together with their actual necessary expenses All costs and expenses of such proceedings shall be apportioned by the court to and between the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class and the township from which a part is being annexed as it shall deem proper

In case exceptions are filed to the report of such commissioners the court shall dispose of the same taking testimony therein if deemed advisable and the decision of the court thereon shall be final and binding on the city of the second class borough or other township of the first class and township from which a part is being annexed unless an appeal is taken within thirty days to the Superior or Supreme Court as in other cases

Section 7 The act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 2803) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto" is hereby repealed in so far as the provisions thereof are inconsistent herewith and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 8 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Hocke,	Johnston,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1361, as follows:

An Act to amend clause (10) of section 3 sections 5 and 6 paragraphs (2) (3) (4) (6) and (11) of section 8 sections 9 and 11 paragraph C of section 12 and section 15 of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 2724) entitled "An act relating to soil conservation and soil erosion and regulating land use practices contributing to soil wastage and soil erosion providing for the organization of soil conservation districts as governmental subdivisions of the Commonwealth with powers of enacting ordinances and regulations for the prevention and control of soil erosion and the conservation of soil resources prescribing the officers and employes thereof and defining their powers and duties creating the State Soil Conservation Board in the Department of Agriculture and imposing powers and prescribing duties thereon relative to the enforcement of this act providing financial assistance to such soil conservation districts prescribing penalties and making an appropriation" by changing the vote necessary for the establishment of districts the making of regulations and the dissolution of districts and requiring voters to be land owners

Section 1 Clause (10) of section 3 sections 5 and 6 paragraph (2) (3) (4) (6) and (11) of section 8 sections 9 and 11 paragraph C of section 12 and section 15 of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 2724) entitled "An act relating to soil conservation and soil erosion and regulating land use practices contributing to soil wastage and soil erosion providing for the organization of soil conservation districts as governmental subdivisions of the Commonwealth with powers of enacting ordinances and regulations for the prevention and control of soil erosion and the conservation of soil resources prescribing the officers and employes thereof and defining their powers and duties creating the State Soil Conservation Board in the Department of Agriculture and imposing powers and prescribing duties thereon relative to the enforcement of this act providing financial assistance to such soil conservation districts prescribing penalties and making an appropriation" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 Definitions

(10) "Land [occupier] owner" or [occupier] "owner of land" includes any person firm or corporation who shall hold title to [or shall be in possession of] any lands lying within a district organized under the provisions of this act [whether as owner lessee renter tenant or otherwise]

* * * * *

Section 5 Creation of Soil Conservation Districts Any twenty-five (25) [occupiers] owners of land lying within the limits of the territory proposed to be organized into a district may file a petition with the State Soil Conservation Board asking that a soil conservation district be organized to function in the territory described in the petition Such petition shall set forth

(1) The proposed name of said district

(2) That there is need in the interest of the public health safety and welfare for a soil conservation district to function in the territory described in the petition

(3) A description of the territory proposed to be organized as a district which description shall not be required to be given by metes and bounds or by legal subdivisions but shall be deemed sufficient if generally accurate

(4) A request that the State Soil Conservation Board duly define the boundaries for such district that a referendum be held within the territory so defined on the question of the creation of a soil conservation district in such territory and that the board determine that such a district be created

Where more than one petition is filed covering parts of the same territory the State Soil Conservation Board may consolidate all or any such petitions

B Within thirty (30) days after such a petition has been filed with the State Soil Conservation Board it shall cause due notice to be given of a proposed hearing upon the question of the desirability and necessity in the interest of the public health safety and welfare of the creation of such district upon the question of the appropriate boundaries to be assigned to such district upon the propriety of the petition and other proceedings taken under this act and upon all questions relevant to such inquiries All [occupiers] owners of land within the limits of the territory described in the petition and of lands within any territory considered for addition to such described territory and all other interested parties shall have the right to attend such hearings and to be heard If it shall appear upon the hearing that it may be desirable to include within the proposed district territory outside of the area within which due notice of the hearing has been given the hearing shall be adjourned and due notice of further hearing shall be given throughout the entire area considered for inclusion in the district and such further hearing held After such hearing if the board shall determine upon the facts presented at such hearing and upon such other relevant facts and information as may be available that there is need in the interest of the public health safety and welfare for a soil conservation district to function in the teritory considered at the hearing it shall make and record such determination and shall define by metes and bounds or by legal subdivisions the boundaries of such district In making such determination and in defining such boundaries the board shall give due weight and consideration to the topography of the area considered and of the Commonwealth the composition of soils therein the distribution of erosion the prevailing land-use practices the desirability and necessity of including within the boundaries the particular lands under consideration and the benefits such lands may receive from being included within such boundaries the relation of the proposed area to existing watersheds and agricultural regions and to other soil conservation districts already organized or proposed for organization under the provisions of this act and such other physical geographical and economic factors as are relevant having due regard to the legislative determinations set forth in section 2 of this act The territory to be included within such boundaries need not be contiguous If the board shall determine after such hearing after due consideration of the said relevant facts that there is no need for a soil conservation district to function in the territory considered at the hearing it shall make and record such determination and shall deny the petition After six months shall have expired from the date of the denial of any such petition subsequent petitions covering the same or substantially the same territory may be filed as aforesaid and new hearings held and determinations made thereon

C After the board has made and recorded a determinnation that there is need in the interest of the public health safety and welfare for the organization of a district in a particular territory and has defined the boundaries thereof it shall consider the question whether the operation of a district within such boundaries with the powers conferred upon soil conservation districts in this act is administratively practicable and feasible To assist the board in the determination of such administrative practicability and feasibility it shall be the duty of the board within a reasonable time after entry of the finding that there is need for the organization of the proposed district and the determination of the boundaries thereof to hold a referendum within the proposed district upon the proposition of the creation of the district and to cause due notice of such referendum to be given The question shall be submitted by ballots upon which the words "For creation of a soil conservation district of the lands below described and lying in the county (ies) of ..... and....." and "against creation of a soil conservation district of the lands below described and lying in the county (ies) of..... .....and ....." shall be printed with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before one or the other of said propositions as the voter may favor or oppose creation of such district The ballot shall set forth the boundaries of such proposed district as determined by the board All [occupiers] owners of lands lying within the boundaries of the territory as determined by the State Soil Conservation Board shall be eligible to vote in such referendum Only such land [occupiers] owners shall be eligible to vote

D The board shall pay all expenses for the issuance of such notices and the conduct of such hearings and referenda and shall supervise the conduct of such hearings and referenda It shall issue appropriate regulations governing the conduct of such hearings and referenda and providing for the registration prior to the date of the referenudm of all eligible voters or prescribing some other appropriate procedure for the determination of those eligible as voters in such referendum No informalities in the conduct of such referendum or in any matters relating thereto shall invalidate said referendum or the result thereof if notice thereof shall have been given substantially as herein provided and said referendum shall have been fairly conducted

E The board shall publish the result of such referendum and shall thereafter consider and determine whether the operation of the district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible If the board shall determine that the operation of such district is not administratively practicable and feasible it shall record such determination and deny the petition If the board shall determine that the operation of such district is administratively practicable and feasible it shall record such deteremination and shall proceed with the organization of the district in the manner hereinafter provided In making such determination the board shall give due regard and weight to the attitudes of the [occupiers] owners of lands lying within the defined boundaries the number of land [occupiers] owners eligible to vote in such referendum who shall have voted the proportion of the votes cast in such referendum in favor of the creation of the district to the total number of votes cast the approximate wealth and income of the land [occupiers] owners of the proposed district the probable expense of carrying on erosion-control operations within such district and such other economic and social factors as may be relevant to such determination having due regard to the legislative determinations set forth in section 2 of this act Provided however That the board shall not have authority to determine that the operation of the proposed district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible unless at least [a majority] sixty-five per centum of the votes cast in the referendum upon the proposition of creation of the district shall have been cast in favor of the creation of such district

F If the board shall determine that the operation of the proposed district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible it shall appoint two (2) supervisors to act with the three (3) supervisors elected as provided hereinafter as the governing body of the district such district shall be a governmental subdivision of this Commonwealth and a public body corporate and politic upon the taking of the following proceedings

The two appointed supervisors shall present to the Secretary of the Commonwealth an application signed by them which shall set forth (and such application need contain no detail other than the mere recitals) (1) that a petition for the creation of the district was filed with the State Soil Conservation Board pursuant to the provisions of this act and that the proceedings specified in this act were taken pursuant to such petition that the application is being filed in order to complete the organization of the district as a governmental subdivision and a public body corporate and politic under this act and that the board has appointed them as supervisors (2) the name and official residence of each of the supervisors together with a certified copy of the appointments evidencing their right to office (3) the term of office of each of the supervisors (4) the name which is proposed for the district and (5) the location of the principal office of the supervisors of the district The application shall be subscribed and sworn to by each of the said supervisors before an officer authorized by the laws of this State to take and certify oaths who shall certify upon the application that he personally knows the supervisors and knows them to be the officers as affirmed in the application and that each has subscribed thereto in the officer's presence The application shall be accompanied by a statement by the State Soil Conservation Board which shall certify (and such statement need contain no detail other than the mere recitals) that a petition was filed notice issued and hearing held as aforesaid that the board did duly determine that there is need in the interest of the public health safety and welfare for a soil conservation district to function in the proposed territory and did define the boundaries thereof that notice was given and a referendum held on the question of the creation of such district and that the result of such referendum showed [a majority] sixty-five per centum of the votes cast in such referendum to be in favor of the creation of the district that thereafter the board did duly determine that the operation of the proposed district is administratively practicable and feasible The said statement shall set forth the boundaries of the district as they have been defined by the board

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall examine the application and statement and if he finds that the name proposed for the district is not identical with that of any other soil conservation district of this Commonwealth or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion or uncertainity he shall receive and file them and shall record them in an appropriate book of record in his office If the Secretary shall find that the name proposed for the district is identical with that of any other soil conservation district of this Commonwealth or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion and uncertainty he shall certify such fact to the Soil Conservation Board which shall thereupon submit to the Secretary of the Commonwealth a new name for the said district which shall not be subject to such defects Upon receipt of such new name free of such defects the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall record the application and statement with the name so modified in an appropriate book of record in his office When the application and statement have been made filed and recorded as herein provided the district shall constitute a governmental subdivision of this Commonwealth and a public body corporate and politic The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall make and issue to the said supervisors a certificate under the seal of the Commonwealth of the due organization of the said district and shall record such certificate with the application and statement The boundaries of such district shall include the territory as determined by the State Soil Conservation Board as aforesaid but in no event shall they include an area included within the boundaries of another soil conservation district organized under the provisions of this act

G After six (6) months shall have expired from the date of entry of a determination by the State Soil Conservation Board that operation of a proposed district is not administratively practicable and feasible and denial of a petition pursuant to such determination subsequent petitions may be filed as aforesaid and action taken thereon in accordance with the provisions of this act

H Petitions for including additional territory within an existing district may be filed with the State Soil Conservation Board and the proceedings herein provided for in the case of petitions to organize a district shall be observed in the case of petitions for such inclusion The board shall prescribe the form for such petitions which shall be as nearly as may be in the form prescribed in this act for petitions to organize a district Where the total number of land [occupiers] owners in the area proposed for inclusion shall be less than twenty-five the petition may be filed when signed by [a majority] sixty-five per centum of the [occupiers] owners of such area and in such case no referendum need be held In referenda upon petitions for such inclusion all [occupiers] owners of land lying within the proposed additional area shall be eligible to vote

I In any suit action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of or relating to any contract proceeding or action of the district the district shall be deemed to have been established in accordance with the provisions of this act upon proof of the issuance of the aforesaid certificate by the Secretary of the Commonwealth A copy of such certificate duly certified by the Secretary shall be admissible in evidence in any such suit action or proceeding and shall be proof of the filing and contents thereof

Section 6 Election of Three Supervisors for Each District Within thirty (30) days after date of issuance by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of a certificate of organization of a soil conservation district nominating petitions may be filed with the State Soil Conservation Board to nominate candidates for supervisors of such district The board shall have authority to extend the time within which nominating petitions may be filed No such nominating petition shall be accepted by the board unless it shall be subscribed by twenty-five (25) or more [occupiers] owners of land lying within the boundaries of such district Land [occupiers] owners may sign more than one such nominating petition to nominate more than one candidate for supervisor The board shall give due notice of an election to be held for the election of three supervisors for the district The names of all nominees on behalf of whom such nominating petitions have been filed within the time herein designated shall be printed arranged in the alphabetical order of the surnames upon ballots with a square before each name and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before any three names to indicate the voter's preference All [occupiers] owners of lands lying within the district shall be eligible to vote in such election Only such land [occupiers] owners shall be eligible to vote The three candidates who shall receive the largest number respectively of the votes cast in such election shall be the elected supervisor for such district The board shall pay all the expenses of such election shall supervise the conduct thereof shall prescribe regulations governing the conduct of such election and the determination of the eligibility of voters therein and shall publish the results thereof

Section 8 Powers of Districts and Supervvisors * * * *

(2) To conduct demonstrational projects within the district on lands owned or controlled by this Commonwealth or any of its agencies with the cooporation of the agency administering and having jurisdiction thereof and on any other lands within the district upon obtaining the consent of the [occupier] owner of such lands or the necessary rights or interests in such lands in order to demonstrate by example the means methods and measures by which soil and soil resources may be conserved and soil erosion in the form of soil blowing and soil washing may be prevented and controlled

(3) To carry out preventive and control measures within the district including but not limited to engineering operations methods of cultivation the growing of vegetation changes in use of land and the measures listed in subsection C of section 2 of this act on lands owned or controlled by this Commonwealth or any of its agencies with the cooperation of the agency administering and having jurisdiction thereof and on any other lands within the district upon obtaining the consent of the [occupier] owner of such lands or the necessary rights or interests in such lands

(4) To cooperate or enter into agreements with and within the limits of appropriations duly made available to it by law to furnish financial or other aid to any agency governmental or otherwise or any [occupier] owner of lands within the district in the carrying on of erosion-control and prevention operations within the district subject to such conditions as the supervisors may deem necessary to advance the purposes of this act

* * * *

(6) To make available on such terms as it shall prescribe to land [occupiers] owners within the district agricultural and engineering machinery and equipment fertilizer seeds and seedlings and such other material or equipment as will assist such land [occupiers] owners to carry on operations upon their lands for the conservation of soil resources and for the prevention and control of soil erosion

* * * *

(11) As a condition to the extending of any benefits under this act to or the performance of work upon any lands not owned or controlled by this Commonwealth or any of its agencies the supervisors may require contributions in money services materials or otherwise to any operations conferring such benefits and may require land [occupiers] owners to enter into and perform such agreements or covenants as to the permanent use of such lands as will tend to prevent or control erosion thereon

Section 9 Adoption of Land-use Regulations The supervisors of any district shall have authority to formulate regulations governing the use of lands within the district in the interest of conserving soil and soil resources and preventing and controlling soil erosion The supervisors may conduct such public meetings and public hearings upon tentative regulations as may be necessary to assist them in this work The supervisors shall not have authority to enact such land-use regulations into law until after they shall have caused due notice to be given of their intention to conduct a referendum for submission of such regulations to the [occupiers] owners of lands lying within the boundaries of the district for their indication of approval or disapproval of such proposed regulations and until after the supervisors have considered the result of such referendum The proposed regulations shall be embodied in a proposed ordinance Copies of such proposed ordinance shall be available for the inspection of all eligible voters during the period between publication of such notice and the date of the referendum The notices of the referendum shall recite the contents of such proposed ordinance or shall state where copies of such proposed ordinance may be examined The question shall be submitted by ballots upon which the words "For approval of proposed ordinance Number ..... prescribing land-use regulations for conservation of soil and prevention of erosion" and "Against approval of proposed ordinance Number ..... prescribing land-use regulations for conservation of soil and prevention of erosion" shall be printed with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before one or the other of said propositions as the voter may favor or oppose approval of such proposed ordinance The supervisors shall supervise such referendum shall prescribe appropriate regulations governing the conduct thereof and shall publish the result thereof All [occupiers] owners of lands within the district shall be eligible to vote in such referendum Only such land [occupiers] owners shall be eligible to vote No informalities in the conduct of such referendum or in any matters relating thereto shall invalidate said referendum or the result thereof if notice thereof shall have been given substantially as herein provided and said referendum shall have been fairly conducted

The supervisors shall not have authority to enact such proposed ordinance into law unless at least [a majority] sixty-five per centum of the votes cast in such referendum shall have been cast for approval of the said proposed ordinance The approval of the proposed ordinance by a majority of the votes cast in such referendum shall not be deemed to require the supervisors to enact such proposed ordinance into law Land-use regulations prescribed in ordinances adopted pursuant to the provisions of this section by the supervisors of any district shall have the force and effect of law in the said district and shall be binding and obligatory upon all [occupiers] owners of lands within such district

Any [occupier] owner of land within such district may at any time file a petition with the supervisors asking that any or all of the land-use regulations prescribed in any ordinance adopted by the supervisors under this section shall not be amended supplemented or repealed Land-use regulations prescribed in any ordinance adopted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not be amended supplemented or repealed except in accordance with the procedure prescribed in this section for adoption of land-use regulations Referenda on adoption amendment supplementation or repeal of land-use regulations shall not be held more often than once in six (6) months

The regulations to be adopted by the supervisors under the provisions of this section may include

1 Provisions requiring the carrying out of necessary engineering operations including the construction of terraces terrace outlets check dams dikes ponds ditches and other necessary structures

C Any land [occupier] owner may file a petition with the board of adjustment alleging that there are great practical difficulties or unnecessary hardships in the way of his carrying out upon his lands the strict letter of the land-use regulations prescribed by ordinance approved by the supervisors and praying the board to authorize a variance from the terms of the land-use regulations in the application of such regulations to the lands occupied by the petitioner Copies of such petition shall be served by the petitioner upon the chairman of the supervisors of the district within which his lands are located and upon the chairman of the State Soil Conservation Board The board of adjustment shall fix a time for the hearing of the petition and cause due notice to such hearing to be given The supervisors of the district and the State Soil Conservation Board shall have the right to appear and be heard at such hearing Any [occupier] owner of lands lying within the district who shall object to the authorizing of the variance prayed for may intervene and become a party to the proceedings Any party to the hearing before the board may appear in person by agent or by attorney If upon the facts presented at such hearing the board shall determine that there are great practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in the way of applying the strict letter of any of the land-use regulations upon the lands of the petitioner it shall make and record such determination and shall make and record findings of fact as to the specific conditions which establish such great practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship Upon the basis of such findings and determination the board shall have power by order to authorize such variance from the terms of the land-use regulations in their application to the lands of the petitioner as will relieve such great practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship and will not be contrary to the public interest and such that the spirit of the land-use regulations shall be observed the public health safety and welfare secured and substantial justice done

Section 15 Discontinuance of Districts At any time after five (5) years after the organization of a district under the provisions of this act any twenty-five (25) [occupiers] owners of land lying within the boundaries of such district may file a petition with the State Soil Conservation Board praying that the operations of the district be terminated and the existence of the district discontinued The board may conduct such public meetings and public hearings upon such petition as may be necessary to assist it in the consideration thereof Within sixty (60) days after such a petition has been received by the board it shall give due notice of the holding of a referendum and shall supervise such referendum and issue appropriate regulations governing the conduct thereof the question to be submitted by ballots upon which the words "For terminating the existence of the ..... (name of the soil conservation district to be here inserted)" and "Against terminating the existence of the ..... (name of the soil conservation district to be here inserted)" shall be printed with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an X mark in the square before one or the other of said propositions as the voter may favor or oppose discontinuance of such district All [occupiers] owners of lands lying within the boundaries of the district shall be eligible to vote in such referendum Only such land [occupiers] owners shall be eligible to vote No informalities in the conduct of such referendum or in any matters relating thereto shall invalidate said referendum or the result thereof if notice thereof shall have been given substantially as herein provided and said referendum shall have been fairly conducted

The State Soil Conservation Board shall publish the result of such referendum and shall thereafter consider and determine whether the continued operation of the district within the defined boundaries is administratively practicable and feasible If the board shall determine that the continued operation of such district is administratively practicable and feasible it shall record such determination and deny the petition If the board shall determine that the continued operation of such district is not administratively practicable and feasible it shall record such determiniation and shall certify such determination to the supervisors of the district In making such determination the board shall give due regard and weight to the attitudes of the [occupiers] owners of lands lying within the district the number of land [occupiers] owners eligible to vote in such referendum who shall have voted the proposition of the votes cast in such referendum in favor of the discontinuance of the district to the total number of votes cast the approximate wealth and income of the land [occupiers] owners of the district the probable expense of carrying on erosion control operations within such district and such other economic and social factors as may be relevant to such determination having due regard to the legislative findings set forth in section 2 of this act Provided however That the board shall not have authority to determine that the continued operation of the district is administratively practicable and feasible unless at least [a majority] sixty-five per centum of the votes cast in the referendum shall have been cast in favor of the continuance of such district

Upon receipt from the State Soil Conservation Board of a certification that the board has determined that the continued operation of the district is not administratively practicable and feasible pursuant to the provisions of this section the supervisors shall forthwith proceed to terminate the affairs of the district The supervisors shall dispose of all property belonging to the district at public auction and shall pay over the proceeds of such sale into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue The supervisors shall thereupon file an application duly verified with the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the discontinuance of such district and shall transmit with such application the certificate of the State Soil Conservation Board setting forth the determination of the board that the continued operation of such district is not administratively practicable and feasible The application shall recite that the property of the district has been disposed of and the proceeds paid over as in this section provided and shall set forth a full accounting of such properties and proceeds of the sale The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall issue to the supervisors a certificate of dissolution and shall record such certificate in an appropriate book of record in his office

Upon issuance of a certificate of dissolution under the provisions of this section all ordinances and regulations theretofore adopted and in force within such districts shall be of no further force and effect All contracts theretofore entered into to which the district or supervisors are parties shall remain in force and effect for the period provided in such contracts The State Soil Conservation Board shall be substituted for the district or supervisors as party to such contracts The committee shall be entitled to all benefits and subject to all liabilities under such contracts and shall have the same right and liability to perform to require performance to sue and be sued thereon and to modify or terminate such contracts by mutual consent or otherwise as the supervisors of the district would have had Such dissolution shall not affect the lien of any judgment entered under the provisions of section 11 of this act nor the pendency of any action instituted under the provisions of such section and the board shall succeed to all the rights and obligations of the district or supervisors as to such liens and actions

The State Soil Conservation Board shall not entertain petitions for the discontinuance of any certain district nor conduct referenda upon such petitions nor make determinations pursuant to such petitions in accordance with the provisions of this act more often than once in five (5) years

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 732, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws 493) entitled "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class and imposing fines penalties and forfeitures for violation thereof" as amended and extended to certain boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class by the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 168) in so far as the same relates and applies to boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, is it correct that there has been an understanding that this bill would be recommitted to the Committee from whence it originated for the purpose of further study and possible amendment?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I personally have no knowledge of any agreement or understanding. Yesterday I asked Mr. Fisher to hold up the bill and not call it up. He did not call it up. That is the only thing I know about it. I told him I had no interest in the bill as the majority leader, and I know of no agreement. I think the gentleman should interrogate Mr. Fisher as to whether or not there was a definite agreement. If there was such an agreement I was not a party to it and have no knowledge of it.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, does the majority leader know whether or not there happens to be an agreement that the bill will be held up awaiting a public hearing?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I did not know that that was the purpose for which it was being held up. I did not hold it up with the idea of having a public hearing. I did not know there was to be a public hearing.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, was there an agreement that there should be a public hearing by those who might be affected by the bill?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I have no knowledge of any agreement that there should be such a hearing. The sponsor has suggested that the bill go over in order, and I am satisfied with whatever action the House desires to take on it. As a majority leader I have no interest one way or the other in the action on the bill. If there was any definite agreement between the Committee or between the sponsor and some person, I think that definite agreement should be carried out, but I was not a party to any definite agreement concerning the bill. The only thing I requested was to have the bill go over in its order yesterday. I did that, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Fisher spoke to me about it and I said he could do with the bill whatever he desired.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding, at least I have been so advised by certain individuals that were interested, who would be affected by the bill, that there would be a public hearing, or at least one was desired, and I understand there has been some such arrangement.

For the purpose of permitting me to find out if that is true, Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, speaking on the motion, I personally have no objection to the motion.

Mr. FISHER. I object to this bill going over or being held up. I had no agreement with anyone.

This bill repeals the Plumbing Code as to boroughs and townships. The Act was tried for two years with disastrous results. Its supporters are the purveyors of plumbing supplies and the Master Plumbers' Associations. It was not advocated by the Department of Health. In its administration borough councils were abused and individual plumbers were threatened. In a majority of cases it is physically impossible to enforce the Act. In other cases it is a financial hardship upon the municipality and the home owner. Individual contractors have estimated the increased cost to a respectable home would be at least two hundred dollars.

We have two towns in Huntingdon County that come under this Act and it would increase our taxes almost half a mill. We have been getting along in the country without plumbing inspectors four years and I cannot see why we should be compelled to raise taxes on the property owners.

I therefore ask the members of the House to vote down the motion.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say for the benefit of the gentleman that he can call this bill off the third reading postponed calendar at any time. I would suggest that he permit the bill to go on the postponed calendar and if later on in the afternoon he desires to call is up he may do so.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests to the gentleman, to pass the bill over with the consent of the House for the present.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, several members of the Committee have contacted me and they have told me that the Committee had agreed that there was going to be a public hearing, that they had actually fixed the date of the hearing as next Tuesday. I may be greatly misinformed but if that is correct, Mr. Speaker, I feel that this House should pass the bill over until the desires of the committee are carried out. Certainly my request to postpone it temporarily is not going to damage anyone.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection the bill was passed over.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1156, entitled:

An Act relating to the grading and sale of certain farm products providing penalties for violations and imposing duties upon the Department of Agriculture

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GILLAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture, for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 685, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 289) entitled "An act relating to non-profit corporations defining and providing for the organization merger consolidation and dissolution of such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and members prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the first class within the provisions of this act prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign nonprofit corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas prothonotaries of such courts recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations" by providing for and regulating the incorporation of nonprofit medical service corporations organized to provide medical services for subscribers of low income and their dependents conferring powers on the Department of Health and the Insurance Department with respect thereto further prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the dissolution of nonprofit medical service corporations by and under the supervision of the Insurance Commissioner and further defining the scope of the Act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to take up this bill along with the other medical bill on the calendar today.

Yesterday we, thru necessary and vital amendments attempted to cure some of the defects in these two medical bills—we failed; and I venture to say that in the immediate future some of us will deeply regret that we didn't do a better job when we had the chance. For many many years there has been an urgent and apparent need in this country of a real health program—and I am sorry to state, medical opinion to the contrary notwithstanding, that for the state of Pennsylvania a health program is not yet in sight. I'm going to digress for the purpose of depicting a few vivid facts concerning public health in these United states; a system which leaves the victims of a stupid, niggling public health program to perish by the wayside while we proceed along our own selfish and callous way. For every 10,000 children born in America, 57 mothers die—one quarter of a million women in this great land of ours will bear their children this year without a physician in attendance, and according to the report of the President's Interdepartmental Committee on Medical Care, and I quote "the deaths from causes associated with delivery have shown scarcely any decrease in 22 years." A childhood disease is diphtheria—it can be absolutely prevented—it has no reason to exist at all. It should be wiped out, and would be, if our medical care were placed on a proper basis. But is it wiped out? In 77 typical cities and counties which conduct diphtheria immunization, less than half of the children of pre-school age had been immunized. Dental care for children is sadly neglected. For every 1000 children entering school, there are 1300 dental defects, more than one to a child, which cry for attention.

The great plague of early manhood and womanhood, and incidentally, of the James Administration, is Tuberculosis. Each year more than 40,000 young adults between the ages of 15 and 45 die from the ravages of T. B. These deaths can be reduced by 50 per cent. thru early detection and adequate care.

I could go on describing the ills which a decent public health program would remedy; I could talk of Malaria and pellagra in the South; of Typhoid in the rural communities everywhere; of syphilis and gonorrhea, which were neglected by laymen and doctors alike, until the United States Government—not the American Medical Association—aroused public interest in this problem.

These truths are self-evident; our public health program is woefully inadequate. Thousands of our people die annually of disease they should never have been allowed to contract; and thousands more die annually of diseases which simple treatment could correct. That the forces of organized medicine, the spokesmen for the physicians in this country have been derelict, and selfishly derelict, in their neglect of these conditions.

Improvements we have made in recent years in the public health field come from government and from public-spirited, individual members of the medical profession. They have not come from any efforts put forth by the professional spokesmen of the American Medical Society. Some of you members will say: Tronzo, you're wrong about the Medical Association. They do have a health program, and its on the third reading calendar today; but I assure you that the only health this program insures is the financial health of its panel doctors. Recently when one of our medicos was approached on the question of including other branches of the healing arts, he said: "We got ours, let them go out and get a bill of their own." This attitude sums up rather well the social attitude of the Medical Association. However, even though there are two bills before us today they do not constitute a real health program, they do serve a very definite purpose—they are at long last an admission of guilt on the part of the Medical Association, and serve as acknowledgment that a health program has existed and continues to exist in this Commonwealth of ours and in the entire United States; and since this admission of guilt may eventually lead to a real health insurance program, similar to the one now gathering dust in the House Committee on Health and Sanitation, and known as House Bill 622 (still in the pink), Mr. Speaker, I wish to be recorded as voting a soft "aye."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN filed the following reasons for his vote:

My filing of reasons for voting against House Bills Nos. 685 and 686 is in no regard to be construed as an apology for my voting against both bills. I am convinced that the bills are a step in the right direction as to their purpose, but that they are not comprehensive enough in scope to meet the needs of the general public.

Mr. HESS filed the following reasons for his vote:

Mr. Speaker, I voted in favor of House Bill No. 685 because I believe in the purpose sought to be accomplished. I believe that the bill would have been more desirable had it included the other professions included in the "healing arts," but since those amendments were defeated, I am of the opinion, nevertheless, that the bill should be enacted into law.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 686, entitled:

An Act providing for the regulation and supervision of nonprofit medical service corporations organized to provide medical services to subscribers of low income by the Department of Health and the Insurance Department and defining the functions of such departments with respect thereto authorizing certain departments commissions officers and other agencies of the State and its political subdivisions to subscribe under certain circumstances to the medical service plan of such corporations on behalf of persons of low income prescribing legal investments for the funds of such corporations and the rights of doctors of medicine to register with such corporations conferring authority on the Department of Health and on the Insurance Commissioner each within its own sphere of lawful activity to regulate and supervise such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon such corporations and their officers and members prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers exempting such corporations from taxation prohibiting any person copartnership association Common Law Trust or corporation except a nonprofit medical service corporation from providing medical services on a nonprofit plan in return for prepayment periodical or lump sum payments providing penalties for the violation of and mandatory and injunctive relief for the enforcement of the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to raise a constitutional question on this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inquire of the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Alspach, whether he desires to raise a constitutional point of order or whether he desires to debate the constitutionality of the bill.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I will just debate the constitutionality of this bill. I will not raise a constitutional point of order, if it is agreeable to the Chair.

I desire to call to the attention of the members of the House this bill, Printer's No. 229, page 11, Section 11 and I wish to read the section which is as follows:

> "Every department commission officer and other agency of the State or of any political sub-division thereof who is charged by law with the duty of providing medical services within the meaning of this act for persons unable to provide it at their own expense or to procure it through persons to whose support and assistance they are by law entitled is hereby empowered in the exercise of his authority to provide such service if in his judgment it is in the public interest so to do through a subscription or subscriptions paid for from any lawfully available public funds with any nonprofit medical service corporation on behalf of any person or persons entitled to such relief."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I would like to refer to the constitution of Pennsylvania. My point here, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, is this, that this Section 11 is unconstitutional because it allows those persons in charge of the administration of relief and relief funds to purchase subscriptions for membership in this non-profit plan in the name of relief recipients and to do so directly from public funds. The implications of the bill are that the only persons who can treat these subscribers are, first, members of the medical profession, doctors of medicine, and secondly, only those particular members of the medical profession who have seen fit to subscribe to this plan.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to call to the attention of the members of the House, the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Article III, Section 18, which limits appropriations and the purpose for which appropriations may be made by the state of Pennsylvania.

> Section 18 says: "No appropriations shall be made for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes to any person or community nor to any denominational or sectarian institution, corporation or association: Provided, That appropriations may be made for pensions or gratuities for military services, and to blind persons twenty-one years of age and upwards, and for assistance to mothers having dependent children, and to aged persons without adequate means of support."

More particularly I refer to Section 17 of this Article III which says:

> "No appropriation shall be made to any charitable or educational institution not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, other than normal schools established by law for the professional training of teachers for the public schools of the state, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House."

It seems to me that this section 11 of Bill No. 686, which is under consideration at the present time is unconstitutional because it provides specifically that persons in charge of the administration of relief may in the exercise of their discretion purchase shares in this non-profit corporation, the shares to be purchased in the name of and for such persons who are on relief, and these shares are to be paid for from public funds.

Casting this aside, the practical effect of course is obvious. What would happen would be that the persons in charge of relief would be spending public funds. In other words, funds which the Legislature appropriated for relief, public funds which are appropriated for relief, instead of being paid to relief recipients, who in turn will pay it out of their own pockets and say, "Here is to the doctor, and here is to someone else", are spent directly by the relief agency or those entitled under the law to administer relief. They in turn purchase memberships for relief recipients in this non-profit corporation, which results in doctors of medicine receiving the benefits from public funds, and only those doctors of medicine who have decided to register and become part of this non-profit corporation participate.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, those are the reasons why I claim this section 11 of House Bill 686 is unconstitutional.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in reply to the gentleman from Lancaster I wish to point out to the House that it has already been decided, and the Commonwealth is now expending money for medical treatment of relief recipients. Those moneys are being constitutionally applied for the health of relief recipients under the Constitution under the decision reported in 308 Pa. when that question was raised in the Liveright case. The interpretation of the Supreme Court on that phase of the Constitution is already a matter of judicial law.

The second problem which the gentleman raises is the fact that those in charge of relief may enter subscriptions for relief recipients whereby they would be guaranteed medical treatment. Now, it is only logical that if perchance, and this is purely a "may" enactment, this type of medication might for a large group of relief recipients be made available to them at a small cost to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For instance, the relief director in Lancaster might come to the conclusion that by subscribing for the relief recipients, in a group that would be formed in Lancaster, that the relief recipients would be able to receive complete medication, say, for five thousand dollars, whereas under the present system of taking care of the average of these relief recipients it would be costing the relief administrator in Lancaster ten thousand dollars. Undoubtedly, if that saving can be effected through the utilization of this particular enactment, this particular clause, that should be done. It is not an unconstitutional appropriation because as I have stated in 308 Pa. in the recent act of the session of 1937, the obligation for taking care of medication for relief recipients was definitely placed upon our own Department of Assistance, and if they can find a method of doing that cheaper we should allow them so to do.

If the question set forth by the gentleman from Lancaster does raise the problem of unconstitutionality, that in no manner would affect the bill, because on page 16 section 19, a severability clause is placed in the act, which provides as the members of the House well know, that if one section is declared unconstitutional, the bill operates as though that particular section had not been passed. I have no fear of the constitutionality of the particular section to which the gentleman from Lancaster refers, for the simple reason that the problem has already been decided in the case I have mentioned and the constitutionality of such enactment has been judicially determined.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from York has just mentioned the fact that this bill includes a severability clause, is that correct?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from York in the interest of good draftsmanship include a section which may or may not be constitutional, or does he think upon that viewpoint, that it would be good draftsmanship to include a section which is unconstitutional, just because there is a severability clause to save the whole thing from falling?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not feel that there is any doubt about the constitutionality of that particular clause.

Since the gentleman has referred to it, I would say that good draftsmanship in this particular bill is to provide, if possible, a means whereby those on relief can receive medication at a small cost to our State Treasury. That is good draftsmanship and good legislation.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that the problem would be cheaper for the Commonwealth to furnish medication for relief recipients through this plan than through direct grant?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that is the reason that particular clause was placed in there. If it is not cheaper then undoubtedly the Department of Assistance is not going to expend their money. If it is cheaper, on the other hand, undoubtedly the Department of Assistance should have available legislation that will enable them to take advantage of the lower cost of medication.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from York advocate the placing of doctors on the public payroll to administer medication or medical service?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not advocating that. I am advocating that the doctors be compensated upon what they have done for the relief recipients. They are now being compensated by funds emanating from the Department of Assistance to the doctors.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, does that include only doctors of medicine, those who receive a degree as doctors of medicine, or does it allow any person who is a graduate of any particular school of thought, so far as medicine is concerned?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I don't know. I imagine that the Department of Assistance will supervise and see to it that the recipients are treated under some particular school of thought which is approved by the Department of Public Assistance. However, if there is any other group that feels that they should have this made available to them, as was suggested yesterday, the Legislature is still open and doing business at the old stand and will pass such legislation for them.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, then the Department of Public Assistance, according to the gentleman from York, is the organization which determines which school of thought should receive this business.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the Department of Public Assistance will not okay a bill for medication unless it is presented by one of the recognized schools of medication.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman mean medical service instead of medication?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, medical service or health service. They won't allow a patient to go to a lawyer to be treated for a foot ailment, nor would they allow that patient to be treated by a hex doctor or a pow-wow doctor, either from Lancaster or York.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, may I ask one of the sponsors of this bill to explain to the House how these relief recipients are to be chosen. Are they to serve a period of probation the same as those who are obligated to pay for medical services?

The SPEAKER. Will either the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, or Mr. Hindman from Washington, answer the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ellwood B. Welsh?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to be interrogated.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, the question I would like to have answered is, how will these persons be chosen to receive these benefits by the relief administration?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not know where the confusing thought arose, or where the relief angle comes into this bill. This is a nonprofit insurance bill and the participants are those that have the insurance.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, will it be necessary for these relief recipients to have a medical examination before being enrolled?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, under this bill I do not think relief recipients are enrolled.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, does it provide for the blanketing of relief recipients?

Mr. SARRAF. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, how are they to determine then what persons on relief are to receive this medical attention?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, as I said before, the relief recipients are not included in this bill, to my knowledge, but only those who subscribe are recipients of any medical care.

Mr. ELLWOOD B. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the Constitutional clause quoted by the gentleman from Lancaster has a preceding item which covers the point which I am endeavoring to get a clear understanding on, and that is the point as to whether or not these recipients may be chosen by the Department of Public Assistance whether they will be chosen by any particular method or whether they will wait for them to get sick before they give them service. That provision is not in there, but it seems to me that is unfair to those who would be obliged to pay for the service, having to undergo an examination, and wait for one year before they would be entitled to any service whatsoever.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the bill says that they "may."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MR. FURMAN IN THE CHAIR.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 979, Printer's No. 417 was passed over at the request of Mr. WOODSIDE.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 596, as follows:

An Act authorizing the annexation to an adjacent borough of a part of a township of the first class situate in the same county not exceeding one hundred (100) acres in area and not exceeding in value twenty per centum of the assessed value of such township and which is situate within the watershed of and drains into the borough and regulating the procedure pertaining thereto and providing for the adjustment and apportionment of the assets and liabilities of said townships

Section 1 Hereafter any borough may by ordinance annex a part of an adjacent township of the first class situate in the same county the area of which does not exceed one hundred (100) acres and which is situate within the watershed of and drains into such adjacent borough upon petition signed by a majority of the freeholders and by the owners of three-fourths of the assessed valuation of real estate of the territory proposed to be annexed

Provided however That the provisions of this act shall not apply when the portion of any first class township to be annexed represents twenty per centum or more of the assessed value of such township

Section 2 Notice of the intended application shall be given to the burgess and council of the annexing borough and to the commissioners or supervisors of the township in which the petitioners reside Notice of such application shall also be given in two daily newspapers of general circulation in the county in which the annexing borough is situate at least once a week for three successive weeks immediately preceding the presentation of the petition

Section 3 The petition shall be signed by a majority of the freeholders and by the owners of three-fourths of the assessed valuation of the real estate of the territory proposed to be annexed The petition shall set forth a description of the territory to be annexed and be accompanied by a plot showing the courses and distances of the boundaries of the annexing borough before and after the proposed annexation

Section 4 A certified copy of the ordinance together with a description and a plot showing the courses and distances of the boundaries of the annexing borough before and after such proposed annexation shall be filed in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which such borough is located A notice of such filing shall also be filed in the office of the County Commissioners of the county in which said annexing borough is located Thereupon the territory proposed to be annexed shall be a part of the borough except when any ordinance or plot is filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions within two months immediately preceding a general municipal or primary election in which case the property proposed to be annexed shall not become a part of the borough until the day succeeding such election

Section 5 Where a part of any township of the first class is annexed by a borough the township officers and the council of the annexing borough shall make a just and proper adjustment and apportionment of the assets and liabilities of said township When making such adjustment and apportionment the annexing borough shall share in a division of the assets and indebtedness of the township in the same proportion that the last preceding assessed valuation of the territory annexed bears to the total last preceding valuation of the entire township The adjustment and apportionment as made shall be reduced to writing in proper form and be duly executed and acknowledged by the proper officers of said township and annexing borough and be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which said borough is located.

Section 6 In the event the council of the annexing borough and said township authorities cannot make such amicable adjustment of the assets and liabilities of the township in compliance with this act within sixty days after such annexation then the council of said borough or a proper officer of the township may present a petition to the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which the annexing borough is located whereupon the Court shall appoint three disinterested commissioners residents and taxpayers of the county in which the borough is situate not residing in the borough nor in the township who after hearing notice of which shall be given to the borough and township interested as the Court shall direct shall make report to the Court making an apportionment and adjustment between the township and the borough of all the assests and liabilities of the township said report to state the amount if any that shall be due and payable by the borough to the township or by the township to the borough as well as the amount of indebtedness if any that shall be assumed by the borough or by the township or by both of them

Section 7 The commissioners shall give the borough and the township at least five days' notice of the filing of their report and unless exceptions are filed thereto by the borough or by the township within thirty days after filing thereof the same shall be confirmed by the court absolutely and any sum awarded by said report to the borough or township charged therewith and the amount of debt if any apportioned to any borough or township shall be a legal and valid claim against such borough or township charged therewith any property real or personal given and adjudged to the borough or the township shall become and be the property of the borough or the township to whichever one the same is given and adjudged and upon such report being confirmed such claim or indebtedness charged against any borough or against any township may be collected in the same manner as a judgment is collected against any borough or township Such commissioners shall be allowed five dollars per day for each day actually spent by them in the performance of their duties together with their actual necessary expenses All costs and expenses of such proceedings shall be apportioned by the Court to and between the borough and the township as it shall deem proper

In case exceptions are filed to the report of such commissioners the Court shall dispose of the same taking testimony therein if deemed advisable and the decision of the Court thereon shall be final and binding on the borough and township unless an appeal is taken within thirty days to the Superior or Supreme Court as in other cases

Section 8 The following Acts and parts of Acts and their amendments are hereby repealed so far as they relate to the annexation by an adjacent borough of a part of a township of the first class located in the same county and not exceeding one hundred (100) acres in area that is situate within the watershed of and drains into said borough

The Act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws Two thousand eight hundred three) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto"

The Act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred twenty) entitled "An act requiring the consent of the electors of a township of the first class when such township or any part thereof is to be annexed to a contiguous borough or city"

All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

Section 9 This Act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Consitution the yeas and nays were taken taken.

Messrs. Lloyd H. Wood, Brunner and Alspach asked for a verification of the roll.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 635, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three (Pamphlet Laws 119) entitled "An act for the promotion of medical science by the distribution and use of unclaimed human bodies for scientific purposes through a board created for that purpose and to prevent unauthorized uses and traffic in human bodies" providing for the burial of such bodies unfit for anatomical purposes by the county commissioners in all counties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'DARE. I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sweeney.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman the purpose of this bill, what it does, that is, the amendments that were offered to this bill.

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, the only thing this bill does it to put it back where it was before 1937. At that time the County Commissioners had charge of the bodies of dead people. In 1937 it was amended so that the bodies were given to the morgue or to the Coroner. This bill puts it back where it was before.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, in cases where it says these bodies shall be delivered by the Anatomical Board in the County of Philadelphia, whom are they to deliver the bodies to, the County Commissioners or the Coroner?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, what section is that?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, in the first section of the bill where it says those bodies must be delivered to the County Commissioners or to the Coroner of the City of Philadelphia. To whom are they to be delivered?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman referring to page three?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I am referring to the bill and I am asking this question, to whom are the bodies to be delivered for keeping and for burial purposes until they are buried?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, the Coroner gets the bodies. They are then turned over to the County Commissioners. That is my understanding of the bill.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman give me any reason why, if the Coroner receives the bodies and has all the records, the Commissioners should handle the burial of these bodies?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, the County Commissioners have to pay for it.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, the taxpayers pay for it.

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, through the County Commissioners.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, it says here that the warrants are to be drawn but it does not say by whom. It does not say that the warrants shall be drawn by the County Commissioners, is that not a fact?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, the warrant is drawn through the County Commissioners.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, the warrant is drawn on the City Treasurer.

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, through the County Commissioners.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, since the bodies have been taken charge of by the Coroner of the City of Philadlphia, has it not been done in a very very fine way, to the satisfaction of the citizens of Philadelphia without any question?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, well, it was done prior to that time—

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I am not asking about prior to that time, but I am asking since the present Coroner has been handling it, has it been done to the satisfaction of the citizens of the county of Philadelphia?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, prior to 1937, I never heard any complaint about how the County Commissioners handled the situation. This is another bill for sewing up a rip.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia since Mr. Hirsch has been handling it has it not been done in a very fine way, to the satisfaction of the citizens of the county of Philadelphia?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, that I don't know.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman heard of any dissatisfaction?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, I never heard any complaints by the dead or anybody else.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, in the judment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, is it not more compatible to the work of the Coroner to handle this than it would be for the County Commissioners to handle it.

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, it is not because I think the Coroner's office should be abolished.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, since we have a Coroner's office, does the gentleman not think that it could be handled better by the Coroner than by the County Commissioners?

Mr. SWEENEY. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman introduced a bill in the Legislature to abolish the office of Coroner?

Mr. SWEENEY. I have not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill does only one thing, it takes the burial of the dead in the county of Philadelphia from the Coroner and places it in the hands of the County Commissioners.

A few years ago the burial of the dead in Philadelphia was handled so badly under the Republican regime that it caused one man to commit suicide. An exposé was made by Congressman Benjamin Golden at that time, and the record will speak for itself. Since Coroner Hirsch has handled this it has been done in a very economical way and in a very fine way. The Coroner has contracts with all the undertakers, he knows the scrupulous and the unscrupulous ones, and I say this without any fear of contradiction. I have never had anything to do with the burial of the dead, as I do not do that type of work. I want to say that in the city of Philadelphia it has been done in a very, very fine and commendable way under Coroner Hirsch. The County Commissioners during election time are quite busy and they do not have the time and do not have the force or the help to carry out an investigation to find out when these bodies come into the morgue, and they have no way of knowing unless the Coroner tells them that. They would have no way of knowing where in Potter's Field the graves are to be dug unless the Coroner tells them because that is under the control of the Coroner's office. The whole set-up in the County of Philadelphia is under the Coroner's Office. The only reason for this bill is that some unscrupulous undertakers might want to come and talk to some politician when he is busy. They do not have time to investigate and they say, "Alright, you may have the body", and it will be done, not in keeping, as it is now with the ethics of the profession, but it will be done in a very unscrupulous manner, as Congressman Golder clearly exposed a few years ago. As it is done at the present time, they have a resting place, they have a casket. They do not have a tin for their headstone.

Mr. Speaker, I submit that the gentleman under question states himself that he does not know of any reason other than it will be paid for by the County Commissioners. I would like to ask the House, not to put this back into the hands of the same people, which might cast a reflection on the citizens of the city of Philadelphia. For the sake of good government I think it ought to stay in the Coroner's Office where it rightfully belongs, and I ask the House not to vote for the bill.

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is nothing complex about this bill. All it does is to restore the law to the shape it was in before 1937. In 1937 the Legislature, especially the majority controlled by the Democrats at that time, in their zeal to get jobs, changed the position and took it away from the County Commissioners and put it in the Coroner's office. I understand there are only about eight jobs involved. All this bill does is to put it back where it was prior to that time. While the County Commissioner's office was handling this work I never heard any complaint about their handling of it.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sweeney.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SWEENEY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the reason the gentleman wants to put this back is because they will get eight jobs?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, no, that is not the reason.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Is it because the gentleman will get some jobs?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, the reason is because they took eight jobs away from us.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Philadelphia name those eight jobs?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker, no I cannot.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I did not know that there were eight jobs. I did not know that the Democrats took it away for that purpose. They wanted to get it back in the place where it belonged, and I have tried to explain that. If the Anatomical Board turns this work over to the coroner and all of the records to the Coroner, he is the one who would know exactly when and where to bury these bodies. The County Commissioners having nothing to do with this type of work. The County Commissioners are a high type of men but they know nothing about the burial of dead bodies. They have no connection with the dead. I submit is is not part of their function in the county of Philadelphia, and therefore this bill should be voted down.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to correct a few impressions left by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sweeney, in regard to this bill.

The Coroner's office for four years has handled the burial of the indigent dead. For years before the Democratic party ever came into power in the state of Pennsylvania the Coroner's office always handled the burial of the indigent dead, and for obvious reasons. Potter's field where the indigent dead are buried is under the control of the Coroner and it would stay under the control of the Coroner under this bill. The morgue where the bodies are stored and cared for previous to burial is also under the Coroner's office and would remain under the Coroner's office if this bill were passed. All of the dealings with the undertaking profession in regard to the burial of the indigent dead will continue to be under the control of the Coroner. However due to an unfortunate political scandal in the city of Philadelphia, it was deemed expedient, until the stench of political corruption should have blown away to transfer the burial of the indigent dead temporarily to the County Commissioners' office, where it never was previously, where it never did belong and does not belong now. Obviously where all of the department functions are under the Coroner, the burial of the indigent dead should also remain where it always was.

The Act of 1937 merely restored the normal status and was not ripper legislation. It did not add a single job to the budget of the Coroner's office. Those duties were taken up and performed at no additional expense to the County of Philadelphia. It therefore is obvious that this is in no sense the sewing up of a rip, but is reenacting a ripper which had its inception in political corruption. I do not think there is any doubt in the minds of the members of the House who know the situation, regardless of their politics, and who also recall the unfortunate circumstances in regard to this scandal which I do not wish to repeat or go into, that it necessitated the removal temporarily of these functions from the Coroner's office. If you do not believe in ripper legislation, if you believe in centralizing all of the functions which must be performed in this work in one department where they belong, where the undertaking profession which has to do the burying and the general public are perfectly satisfied to have it remain, and where it is being done very efficiently and very economically for the taxpayers and all concerned by the present Coroner of the City of Philadelphia, if you are against this ripper you will vote against this bill, because this is really a revived ripper. When this bill was first introduced there was some cause, but today there is no reason for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask the members of the House to vote against this motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1288, Printer's No. 382 was passed over at the request of Mr. HOMER S. BROWN.

THE SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Greene, Mr. Furman. The Chair desires to say it is a great comfort to have in the House a former Speaker upon whom he can call.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. CURRAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 732, Printer's No. 324, on page 14 of today's calendar which was passed over.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 732, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws 493) entitled "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class and imposing fines penalties and forfeitures for violation thereof" as amended and extended to certain boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class by the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 168) in so far as the same relates and applies to boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messers. Achterman, Sarraf and Powers asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WAGNER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 598, entitled:

An Act authorizing the compromise of delinquent taxes on real property and the penalties interest and costs due thereon except in counties of the first second and third class before a tax sale of such real property and providing the procedure in such case

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, lines 3 and 4 of title, by striking out the words: "second and third"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word: "Wherever" and inserting in lieu thereof: "Whenever"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 3, by striking out the words: "second and third"

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out the word: "net"

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after the word "realized" the following: "on account of such taxes, penalties, interest and costs"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 25, by striking out the words: "three times" and inserting in lieu thereof: "once"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, lines 27 and 28, by striking out the words: "and in the legal journal, if any, of the appropriate county"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Session 1939. 133d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 23 HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1939. No. 44.

SENATE

THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1939.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the Rev. FRANK W. RUTH offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this day and for all it holds forth for us. We pray that Thou will help us to understand that we are just ordinary mortals to whom Thou hast given more opportunity and greater responsibility than to most of our people. And we pray that we may so labor together in this work that those people, whom we represent, may have a deeper and firmer faith in our government, the government which Thou hast founded through our Forefathers, who were wholly and entirely inspired by Thee.

Forgive us our sins of the past and help us that we may not sin again. We ask it in Thy Holy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT and Mr. SHAPIRO, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Mr. LETZLER, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed Senate Resolution, Serial No. 119, as follows:

The Mines and Mining Committee of the Senate and of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania in joint session do hereby resolve:

1. To declare to the Assembly our united determination to carefully consider and fully support a reasonable program of legislation aimed to cure the troubles of the coal mining industry of this Commonwealth.

2. That we believe this problem has been under consideration long enough and that some legislation should now be enacted and tried out while the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry.

3. That we urge all members of the House and Senate of Pennsylvania and all Pennsylvanians who are members of the United States Congress to unite in a determined effort to put the full power of our great Commonwealth behind a determined drive to secure justice and restored prosperity for Pennsylvania's coal industry, and to that end we urge that all party differences be laid aside and our ten million people unite in demanding an end to discrimination by the Interstate Commerce Commission against Pennsylvania coal.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 610, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts page 74) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven" by lapsing a portion of the unobligated balance of the appropriation made to the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the use of the Commission on Interstate Cooperation and re-appropriating such lapsed moneys to the said Chief Clerk for the use of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin

House Bill No. 375, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph (c) of section fifty-eight of the act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 447), entitled as amended "Fiduciaries Act of 1917," as amended by permitting foreign fiduciaries representing the estates of decedents, minors, and legal incompetents, to foreclose on mortgages, to enter judgment on mortgage bonds, to sell the property bound thereby, to take title to property so sold, and to resell such propery.

House Bill No. 363, entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 603) entitled "An act concerning conditional sales and to make uniform the law relating thereto" by providing that all such contracts heretofore or hereafter filed shall be judicial records and subject to the control of the court

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 363

He also present communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 363, entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the twelfth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 603), entitled "An act concerning conditional sales and to make uniform the law relating thereto," by providing that all such contracts heretofore or hereafter filed shall be judicial records and subject to the control of the court.

PROTESTING DISCRIMINATION BY INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION AGAINST PENNSYLVANIA COAL

Mr. THOMAS, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, to which was referred resolution offered by himself, on April 12, 1939, reported the same without amendment as follows:

In the Senate, April 12, 1939.

The Mines and Mining Committee of the Senate and of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania in joint session do hereby resolve:

1. To declare to the Assembly our united determination to carefully consider and fully support a reasonable program of legislation aimed to cure the troubles of the coal mining industry of this Commonwealth.

2. That we believe this problem has been under consideration long enough and that some legislation should now be enacted and tried out while the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry.

3. That we urge all members of the House and Senate of Pennsylvania and all Pennsylvanians who are Members of the United States Congress to unite in a determined effort to put the full power of our great Commonwealth behind a determined drive to secure justice and restored prosperity for Pennsylvania's coal industry, and to that and we urge that all party differences be laid aside and our ten million people unite in demanding an end to discrimination by the Interstate Commerce Commission against Pennsylvania coal.

A motion was made by Mr. THOMAS and Mr. LETZLER.

That rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie over for one day be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I ask that the clerk re-read that line which describes the Governor's position in this matter.

The PRESIDENT. The particular section and line will be re-read.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think it says the Governor is a man of sympathy or something like that.

The clerk read as follows: "2. That we believe this problem has been under consideration long enough and that some legislation should now be enacted and tried out while the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry."

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Somerset will state his question of information.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this is not a resolution, is it?

The PRESIDENT. It was so reported, as a resolution. It has been reported by the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it seems to be a declaration of the position of the House. It is not written in the form of a resolution.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Mines and Mining, Mr. Thomas.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. COLEMAN. This resolution is the subject matter that was discussed in a joint caucus of the Senate and the House; is that correct?

Mr. THOMAS. About two weeks ago, Mr. President.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I was under the distinct impression that this was a statement coming from the Joint Committee on Mines and Mining of the House and Senate rather than a resolution being presented to the Senate. I see it is being presented to the Senat as a resolution.

Am I correct in that assumption?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I did not understand it that way. It was a resolution of the Joint Committee on Mines and Mining of the House and Senate.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I do not think it is phrased in the proper language in which a resolution should be presented to the Senate.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, when we made the changes at that time, I thought they were very satisfactory to the Senator from Lackawanna.

MOTION TO LAY RESOLUTION ON TABLE

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask that the resolution be laid on the table for the purpose of amendments, which I propose to offer, which will clarify one section.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection to the request of the Senator from Lackawanna that the resolution be laid on the table?

The Chair hears none.

The motion was agreed to.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise in my place and present to the Chair a bill which makes an appropriation to the Committee studying the milk question.

Senator Scarlett and myself discussed the problem of getting the records and reports made a matter of record; and, for the information of the Senate, I discovered that we have to have some money to do so. As he is chairman of the committee studying the problem, I told him I had in my fund, that was set up for the industrial tax study, some money that had not been spent; and I, therefore, introduce this bill on behalf of Senator Scarlett and myself.

I want it clearly understood that the thousand dollars—if the Legislature will cooperate, I will provide the money that is in my hands at the present time.

Messrs. DENT and SCARLETT read in their places and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 752, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Joint Legislative Committee to investigate and study regulations, records and activities of departments and boards engaged in administration of laws regulating production and distribution of milk.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GELTZ, by request, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 753, entitled·

An Act to amend section sixteen of the act approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also, by request, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 754, entitled:

An Act relating to adoptions; defining the relationships; and fixing the rights of inheritance.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also, by request, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 755, entitled:

An Act authorizing cities of the third class, boroughs and townships of the first class, to appoint additional police at the expense of persons asking such appointments.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

He also, by request, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 756, entitled:

An Act providing for the appointment of an acting president judge in any court of the Commonwealth having more than one law judge.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

MOTION TO CALL UP RESOLUTION FROM THE TABLE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call up from the table the resolution just reported from the Committee on Mines and Mining by the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas.

MOTION TO AMEND

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now move that the following words in the second paragraph of that resolution be striken out, "While the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry." and move that the resolution, as so amended, be read into the Journal.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to the striking out of those words.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am sure the gentleman from Tioga did not hear the words that I ask to be stricken out because if he had he would realize, as I do, that they could mean either one of three things. First, it could mean we can do this in a hurry, before the Governor changes his mind and be not sympathetic with the industry; or, it could mean that a previous Governor was not sympathetic; or it could mean that a future Governor will not be sympathetic and understanding.

I think that the resolution, as amended, carries the thought so that it can be read into the record.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may we have the clerk read the portion which the Senator from Philadelphia moves be stricken out?

The PRESIDENT. The clerk will read the second paragraph.

The clerk read as follows: "2. That we believe this problem has been under consideration long enough and that some legislation should now be enacted and tried out while the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what is asked to be stricken out?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the part to be stricken out is, "While the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like the Senator from Philadelphia to explain to the Senate why he objects to the statement that the present Governor is sympathetic and familiar with the industry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not object to that statement. I am quite sure that the present Governor is sympathetic and has some understanding of the problem; but I think that the resolution casts unnecessary reflections on incoming and outgoing Governors, and, also, it may indicate that we believe it ought to be done now while the Governor is still sympathetic. I think the Governor will remain sympathetic as he always has been and as every Governor ought to be. I do not think it is necessary.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I submit that that cannot be considered anything else but a slap at Governor James. This does not reflect on any past Governor, nor any future Governor. It merely states he is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry.

I think it is silly to be spending our time arguing on an objection like this. I think it should never have been initiated by a responsible minority floorleader of this Senate to move to take out a clause because it makes a favorable statement towards the Governor of this Commonwealth, and I object to its being stricken out.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have made my statement on the record. If the gentleman from Tioga still feels he wants those words in, I am not going to press it. I think what I have said is perfectly clear. I have certainly no intention of casting any reflection on the Governor. I want to add now that whoever drew the resolution certainly handled the English language very poorly.

If you want it in that way, you can have it.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not yet see that this is a resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is not. That is why I moved to read it into the record.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it is merely a statement of the position of the Committee on Mines and Mining of the Senate and House.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is right, Mr. President. That is why I made that motion.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it is already entered on the journal, and I do not see that it is in a form that calls for any action by us. Furthermore, I am told that, since there is a strike in the bituminous coal region in Pennsylvania, the anthracite coal region is increasing production, and that they may be able to take care of themselves.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President I am asking that it be read into the Journal and that is all.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection it will be read into the Journal.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, without the amendment?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Without the amendment, Mr. President, but with my statements in connection therewith.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair directs that it be printed in the Journal, without the amendment suggested by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING ROBERT McKUNE VAIL

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 27, 1939.

General Order No. 7 emanating from the office of the Adjutant Generals office of the Department of Military Affairs on April 2, announced the retirement of Brigadier General Robert McKune Vail, Commanding the 53rd Field Artillery Brigade, and his promotion in the Retired List to the rank of Major General.

General Vail served with the Pennsylvania National Guard since 1894 and practically all of his service was with the 109th Infantry.

He entered the Federal service with his regiment in the Spanish War, saw service in the Philippine insurrection, on the Mexican Border and in the World War.

He has served as Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania of the American Legion and as United States Marshal for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

General Vail was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross with the following citation:

> "During the crossing of the Vesle River, Major Vail expedited the construction of bridges by his advice and assistance. He personally cut a passageway through enemy barbed wire along the river, and then led his troops through this opening. When the officers of a supporting Infantry company had been killed and the men were falling back in confusion, Major Vail kept his forces intact 1,200 yards in front of any Infantry support, holding the position until reinforced by an Infantry unit."

He was awarded the French Legion d'Honneur (chevalier) with the following citation:

> "At the crossing of the Vesle on September 5, 1918, with admirable ardor he personally prepared for the passage of his battalion by having foot bridges constructed under a violent machine-gun fire, thus permitting the forward movement of an entire regiment of infantry."

He was also awarded the French Croix de Guerre, with Palm, by orders of the French Armies of the East, under date of April 13, 1919.

Although now retired, the experience and ability and courage of General Vail gained during forty-five years of honorable service are still subject to call from his country; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania congratulates General Vail upon the enviable record of outstanding service performed for the Commonwealth and for the Nation, and extends to him its full measure of gratitude for that service and for the part he has so conspicuously and courageously played in the military annals of the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That as a lasting testimonial of that gratitude and a fitting tribute to that record, the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House are hereby instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to General Robert McKune Vail.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. OWLETT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 757, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction. maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," establishing an additional route in the County of Tioga.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 758, entitled:

An Act declaring prosecutions against defendants finally ended and terminated where the Grand Jury has returned bills for indictment ignoramus unless a resubmission is authorized by the court for certain reasons; and providing the procedure and for appeals in such cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 344, (House bill No. 575), as follows:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from current revenues levied assessed collectible and accruing during such two fiscal years defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto providing for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans and making an appropriation

Whereas The present Session of the General Assembly has provided revenues of the Commonwealth amounting to three hundred seventy-two million dollars ($372,000,000) for general purposes for the biennial fiscal period beginning June first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine and

Whereas Such revenues though levied and assessed will not be available in large part for the current and other expenses of the State government until the later parts of the two fiscal years respectively of the said biennial fiscal period and the collectible revenues will not be sufficient to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the earlier parts of such fiscal years respectively and

Whereas In order that the obligations of the Commonwealth may be met promptly and in order that the State government might not fail through lack of funds it is necessary temporarily to obtain funds to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the fiscal period aforesaid until the revenues that are subsequently accruing to the State Treasury during said fiscal period are available for this purpose

Section 1 The Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby authorized and directed during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine from time to time to borrow on the credit of the current revenues of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania such sum or sums of money not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of one hundred seventy-five million dollars ($175,000,000) as may be necessary to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during such fiscal years

Section 2 (a) Such loans shall be evidenced by notes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania All of said notes shall mature not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-one Such notes are hereby declared to be tax anticipation notes Such notes or renewals thereof shall be issued from time to time for such total amounts in such sums and subject to such terms and conditions rates of interest not in excess of four and one-half per centum (4½%) per annum and time of payment of interest as the Governor Auditor General and State Treasurer shall determine and direct

(b) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall bear either the signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer or the facsmile signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in which latter event such notes shall be countersigned by two officers of the Philadelphia National Bank (Loan and Transfer Agent of the Commonwealth) All such notes shall bear a facsimile of the great seal of the Commonwealth

(c) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall have the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of the Commonwealth

(d) The current revenues of the biennial fiscal period beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine are pledged for the payment of principal and interest of such notes which shall be payable in lawful money of the United States All notes issued under the provisions of this act shall be exempt from taxation for State and local purposes

Section 3 The proceeds derived from the negotiation of loans under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the General Fund of the State Treasury and shall be used for the payment of appropriations made from such fund to defray the current and other expenses of the State government for the biennial fiscal period beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine

Section 4 Any loans negotiated under the provisions of this act shall be secured by the current revenues levied and assessed for revenue purposes of every kind or character accruing to the General Fund of the State Treasury during the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine and shall be paid out of such revenues and so much of such revenues as may be necessary for the payment of the principal and interest of such loans are hereby specifically appropriated The Department of Revenue shall allocate such revenues to said payments

Section 5 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions are held unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Any corporation or board of trustees or officer or agent thereof which shall pay give or lend or agree to pay, give or lend, any money or other valuable thing belonging to such corporation or such board or in the custody or control of such corporation or any trustee of such board, in violation of the foregoing provisions hereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than One thousand ($1,000) Dollars nor more than Five thousand ($5,000) Dollars. Any director Officer, trustee, agent or employee of any such corporation or board of trustees who shall on behalf of such corporation pay, give or lend or authorize to be paid, given or lent any money belonging to such corporation or such board or in the custody or control of any such director trustee officer, agent, or employee, in violation of the foregoing provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding One thousand ($1,000) Dollars, or to undergo an imprisonment of not less than one (1) month or more than two (2) years, or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 2906 Campaign expenses on submission of act. No committee of citizens or electors or treasurer of any such committee engaged in campaigning either for or against the adoption or approval of this act or any new City Charter contained therein or any system of electing councilmen for any city affected thereby by proportional representation shall pay, give or lend or agree to pay, give or lend, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing or incur any liability on account of, or in respect to, any expenses whatever, during such campaign, except for the following purposes: For printing and traveling expenses, and personal expenses incident thereto, stationery, advertising, postage, expressage, freight, telegraph, telephone and messenger service; for the rental of radio facilities, amplifier systems and automobiles or other vehicles; for public meetings or demonstrations and for the pay and transportation of speakers; for the rent, maintenance and furnishing of offices; for the payment of clerks, typewriters, stenographers, janitors and attendants actually employed; for the transportation of aged or infirm electors to and from the polls; for the employment of watchers at the polling places and at the count of ballots to the number permitted by this act or by the election laws regulating the November elections; and for the compensation and expenses of legal counsel, incurred in good faith, in connection with such campaigns respectively. Any person who shall pay or incur any expenses other than personal expenses incident to his own activities in any such campaign, not expressly authorized by the foregoing provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding One thousand ($1,000) Dollars, or to undergo an imprisonment of not less than one (1) month nor more than two (2) years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 2907 Expense accounts. Every treasurer of a Committee of citizens or electors campaigning for or against the adoption or approval of this act or any new City Charter proposed therein or any system of electing councilmen for any city of the first class by proportional representation, or person acting as such treasurer, shall, within thirty (30) days after any election, general or otherwise, at which this act shall be submitted to the electors of any such city, now or hereafter existing, or with which any such committee was concerned, if the amount received or expended or liabilities incurred shall exceed the sum of Fifty ($50) Dollars, file a true and detailed account, subscribed to and sworn to by him, setting forth each and every sum of money received, contributed or disbursed by him for any expenses relating to such campaign, the date of each receipt and contribution and disbursement, the name of the persons from whom received or to whom paid, and the specific object or purpose for which the same was disbursed. Such account shall also set forth the unpaid debts and liabilities of any such committee, with the nature and amount of each, and to whom owing. Every expense account filed under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by vouchers for all sums expended amounting to Ten ($10) Dollars or more, and it shall be unlawful for any treasurer of any such committee, or person acting as such treasurer, to disburse any money or other valuable thing received from any anonymous source. Every such account shall be filed with the Clerk of Councils of any such city in which any such vote on this act is taken, and shall be open to public inspection in the office of such clerk during office hours, and shall be carefully preserved by him or his successor, and not removed from such office, except upon the order of a competent court, for a period of two (2) years after filing of such expense account. Every such account shall be subject to audit by the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which such city is located, in the same manner as the expense accounts of candidates for public office in such city or county may be audited under existing laws. Any treasurer of any such Campaign Committee, or person acting as such treasurer, who shall fail to file an account of the expenses of such committee, as required herein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced and pay a fine not exceeding One thousand ($1,000) Dollars, or to udergo an imprisonment of not less than one (1) month or more than two (2) years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Senator Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what is the purpose of the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the purpose of the motion is to offer amendments to the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the Senator from Tioga.

The PRESIDENT. Proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the gentleman realize amending this bill requires the reprinting of a bill some two hundred pages in length?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Tioga realize the amendments he is about to make, do not affect the structure or purpose of the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not. They are very vital amendments, and I wish to offer them at this time before this bill goes over to the House.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think the amendments can be offered in the House. It if develops, as it does in all bills the need of some corrective amendment, it seems to me, if we are talking about economy here, it is silly at this time to make amendments of this kind which can be covered in the House and thereby avoid the reprinting of a two hundred page bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reply to the statement of the Senator from Philadelphia, this is an important piece of legislation, and I do not think we should be prevented from adopting or consider such amendments, as this Senate may consider advisable and necessary, just because they have gotten up a great long bill—that is the funeral of those who proposed it rather than those who offer amendments.

This is the first time I know of that we have been told in the Senate that we have not the right, at least, to offer an amendment simply because it' requires the reprinting of a bill. It is too bad it does; but this bill was introduced and advocated with great fanfare. I have these amendments, which I think are sound amendments; and I offer them at this time and will leave it to the Senate to decide.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Tioga whether it is not true that the amendments provide that there shall be no contributions from corporations or trusts or trustees to a committee sponsoring or opposing the Charter. That is in effect the purpose of the amendments, is it not?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, these amendments that I propose to offer, although they are now before the Senate and I presume they are not properly up for discussion, nevertheless, I am very glad to explain what they do.

These amendments add Sections 2905, 2906 and 2907 to the bill, and they incorporate the provisions of the Corrupt Practice Act in this bill and provide that no corporations may make contributions to any committee which is sponsoring this Charter or any committee that is opposing it.

We all know, Mr. President, that under the law it is illegal for a corporation to make a campaign contribution to an individual. This makes the same law applicable to the campaign that is going to be put on for the adoption and against the adoption of this Charter, so that we will not have a group of a few corporations, who hope through this Charter provision to control the City of Philadelphia, so that they will not be able to make huge contributions to this campaign committee for it, and if there are any corporations opposing it they will not be able to make contributions against it.

It will put it right under the provisions of the Corrupt Practice Act so that the people will have a chance to vote according to their real feelings on this Charter uninfluenced by corporate campaign contributions.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the necessity for this amendment, its value, will govern the action of the Senate as to whether it will vote in favor of taking this bill back to second reading, I think it is proper to discuss the purpose of that amendment, and I am glad the gentleman from Tioga has gotten into the subject so that we can discuss it now and save further discussion later on.

I contend this does not come within the Corrupt Practice Act.

When a man is running for office I think he ought to run in a proper and a legal manner, any corrupt practices should be prevented; but when a question of the form of government is before the people I think that any corporation or any person in interest has the right to either be for or against it and has a right to be for or against with the power of their voice, has the right to be for or against it with the power or their influence, and has the right to be for or against it with the power of their money; because it is their business and personal standing in the community that is being affected, and I am not afraid to have the gentleman from Tioga try to create the impresison that I am in favor of corrupt practices in connection with the Charter because I am opposing the insertion of this amendment in the bill.

This amendment is presented for the mere purpose of crippling the activities of certain committees who have favored this bill, and the provision in the bill that it shall also apply to persons who are opposed to the Charter is ridiculous, because the only people who will be opposed to the Charter in Philadelphia will be, apparently, the Republican organization and they do not need to worry about contributions from employees; they can now get it under the Act which we passed legalizing the accepting but not the demanding of contributions, so that they are perfectly safe and will not have any trouble getting all the money they require to fight this bill.

I think it is not important at this time, or necessary that this amendment be put in here. It is a waste of the money of the Senate. There are tremendous printing costs. There are two amendments which I thought should be put into the bill; I have not offered them here, and I am going to try to have them put in in the House, but I do not think it is sufficiently important to make it necessary to print this bill once more.

These amendments can be offered when the bill is reported out in the House and it will save the reprinting of this bill—it runs into hundred, maybe thousand, of dollars to print this bill of 200 pages all over again merely to satisfy someone who has an idea this is another way to cripple the activities of those who are in favor of this Charter; and I would like to ask the gentleman from Tioga this question: who was it, Mr. President, who presented this amendment to him?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, some friends of good government in Philadelphia.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, would the Senator from Tioga consider it a violation to disclose who those good friends of good government are? I would like to confer with them.

Mr. OWLETT, I do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, would the gentleman from Tioga state whether it is not true they came from the Republican organization through Mr. Cooke?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is not true.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman say that the amendments did not come from the Republican organization?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not know where they originated but they were handed to me by friends of good government in Philadelphia; and when the Senator from Philadelphia stands up on the floor of this Senate and says it is all right for corporations to make contributions to a political campaign when it is a campaign to put over a Charter, because they may be interested in it, but it is wrong for them to make contributions to a man who is running for office, and who, if elected, is going to run their government, I think that is the silliest argument I have ever heard.

I cannot imagine why a Senator would stand up on this floor and object to the Corrupt Practice Act, going into a campaign for a new charter. Here we pass laws in this enlightened age and we all, in the Federal government and the State government, come to the conclusion that it does not make for good government to permit corporations to use money to influence elections. That is fundamental law that we have all stood for, to keep clean elections; and Senator Shapiro stands up here and says we want clean elections when we elect individuals to office but you can use all the money you can get to influence an election if it is to force upon the people a Communistic system of proportional representation by some body of people that want to change the fundamental American system of government, and that is what the proportional representation system does.

Now, I say to you, Mr. President, if the people of Philadelphia are to vote on this charter, as they apparently are, they ought not to be influenced by any corporate contributions; and the people are entitled to know, as they do when men are running for office, who is financing the campaign.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not all surprised that the gentleman from Tioga cannot imagine how I can take the position, because I have always complained he has very little imagination.

I understand the purpose of the Corrupt Practice Act; and, for the benefit of the gentleman from Tioga, so that he may understand, I will tell him that my position—and it will not tax his imagination—is that by contributing to an individual large sums of money for the purpose of securing his election to public office you acquire a control over that individual which makes him necesarily amendable to your suggestions to him; but maybe the gentleman can imagine—if he can, I can't—how in the world anybody can get control over a charter. If the charter is passed and becomes law nobody has control over the law except the Legislature and when the Board of City Trusts of Philadelphia contribute a thousand dollars toward; making this charter possible I do not think they are corrupt, I think that they are people who are interested in good city government. When a corporation that has a business in Philadelphia, pays taxes and is tired of paying taxes far in excess of what is necessary, is tired of paying taxes to keep up a large payroll of these drones in City Hall, is tired of paying taxes to support councilmen who cannot solve ordinary city financial problems, and therefore want to spend some money in order to set up a system of government under a charter which will relieve them of that burden, I think they are entitled to do it.

I think it shows the weakness of the Republican party, and the fear of the party that this charter may go through, that they now suggest that those corporations which have heretofore been contributing to them openly before the Corrupt Practice Act was passed and are now contributing to them through devious ways—through Boards of Directors, through individual contributions and otherwise—should be prohibited from contributing to the charter. It shows that they have been told by these corporations that they propose to see to it that the charter shall become a law; and if anybody can tell me why a corporation should not contribute to set up a form of government that they like, if anyone can tell me why it is that while under the Constitution we have the right to change our form of government as often as we like, corporation cannot contribute to change a local form of government the way they think best, I will be glad to listen to that kind of an argument.

I have never heard it said that either corporations or an individual did not have the right to back any form of government with their finances if in their opinion they think it should be changed; and I charge now as plainly as I can so that the gentleman from Tioga does not misunderstand, this is another one of the steps being taken to prevent the passage of this charter at an election.

Mr. Cooke has already said he is against the charter "lock, stock, and barrel," but Mr. Cooke knows, as the gentleman from Tioga knows, that there is a sentiment back of this charter that will prevent either the action singly of the Republican party or the action generally of the Republicans and Democrats from defeating it, because the people are up in arms and want a new charter, and anything of that kind you put in now will not stop the charter from becoming law. But I want to put myself on record as exposing this attempt coming from the Republican party of Philadelphia as another attempt on their part to interfere with good government and another attempt to perpetuate a system which has ruined Philadelphia and has brought it to the brink of not only bankruptcy but starvation. I am glad to have the opportunity of saying, first, that you have no interest in any economy at all, otherwise you would not ask to spend a thousand dollars to put in that innocuous amendment to the bill. It is absolutely innocuous, and everybody knows it; but you want it in, you have the votes to put it in—go to it; but you will not stop me from expressing my opinion on the subject.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate I want to state that these amendments were submitted to Mr. Woodward, the Senator from Philadelphia, co-sponsor of the bill, and to his committee, yesterday, and they said they had no objection whatever to the amendment; and I so notified Senator Shapiro.

These discussions, I repeat again, are very interesting indeed, coming from the Senator from Philadelphia when he stands up here now and talks about how proper it is for a corporation to attempt to influence an election. I was looking through some of his remarks of a few years ago in the Legislative Journal and I ran on to one which I think I will impress everybody with the fact that we must not take what the Senator says too seriously, because in 1935 he said: "I am a Republican and I will stay a Republican." That was on April 3, 1935, in the Journal of this Senate. So I say again, do not take Senator Shapiro's remarks too seriously.

I call for the resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should answer that because you take me seriously when I have control over the subject matter. Now I said, "I am a Republican and I will stay a Republican." I will tell you what happened. Some fellows down in Philadelphia would not let me stay a Republican, they refused to nominate me. Now, surely, I cannot be responsible for that. I would have loved to have stayed a Republican, because I think if I had been permitted to stay a Republican, had been permitted to give my force and vigor a little longer, I might have convinced the gentlemen they should not have made some of the mistakes they did. But they would not let me stay a Republican.

I said, "you are going to put me in an unfavorbale position. You are going to force me out of the party, and when people remember what I have said, that I am a Republican and I will stay a Republican," they will say, "Now he broke his word."

"I give you my word of honor I had nothing to do with it, I pleaded with them to put me on the ticket, and they would not do it; and they put somebody on there that did not even have a chance, that was not even good opposition. I tried to be a Republican. The Secretary of the Senate knows I went to my leaders and I pleaded with Mr. Weglein; I said, "This is not right. I have only tried to tell you people the right thing to do; I have wanted you to get on the good side of popular legislation; and because I would not go along with nonsensical legislation you are going to throw me out of the party. I will be elected on the Democratic ticket, and I want to be a Republican."

And just what I said happened—here I am brought face to face with that very thing, that very thing that I predicted. I said to Mr. Weglein, "someday I will be in an embarassing position. You know what it means," I said, "to have some one like Senator Owlett, whose voice carries all over the State say, 'you cannot be depended upon; you said you would stay a Republican.' Now, please don't do that to me." And they just ignored me; now here I am today having to listen to that statement.

I am sorry, gentlemen. It was not my fault.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on sceond reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered to be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr OWLETT. Mr. President, I call up for action Senate Bill No. 351, (House No. 318) on third reading.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 351, (House Bill No. 318), entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred fourteen), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment, collection, and lien of the same, and the distribution of the proceeds thereof; imposing duties on executors, administrators, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, prothonotaries, and court clerks, and on persons, copartnerships, associations, banks, national banks, trust companies, and other corporations receiving deposits of money, and on certain corporations and limited partnerships; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; imposing penalties; and making an appropriation," as previously reenacted and amended by eliminating ground rents from list of taxable personal property, defining, clarifying and limiting certain exemptions, exempting from the taxes imposed by the said act property held by executors and administrators of the estates of nonresident decedents, property held by trustees for certain resident and nonresident religious, charitable or educational organizations and property held for nonresidents and foreign corporations under certain circumstances exempting loans issued by first class or non profit corporations from the tax imposed by section seventeen of said act and continuing the State personal property tax and the emergency rate of tax on scrip bonds, certificates and evidences of indebtedness assumed or on which interest is paid by corporations for a further limited period of time.

And said bill hvaing been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 6, line 17, by striking out the word: S "twenty-first" and inserting in lieu thereof: first amend section 1, page 28 by inserting between lines 27 and 28 the following: S and provided further that the provisions of this section shall not apply to personal property of the classes hereinabove enumerated received from any person or persons copartnership or unicorporated association or company non-resident in or not located within this Commonwealth or from any jointstock association limited partnership bank or corporation formed created or incorporated by under or in pursuance of any law of the United States or of any State or government other than this Commonwealth by any person or persons copartnership or unincorporated association resident in this Commonwealth company jointstock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation created or existing under the laws of this Commonwealth or doing business within this Commonwealth as active trustee agent attorney-in-fact or in any other capacity for the use benefit or advantage of any person or persons copartnership or unincorporated association or company non-resident in or not located within this Commonwealth or for the use benefit or advantage of any joint-stock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation formed created or incorporated by under or in pursuance of any law of the United States or of any State or government other than this Commonwealth or any such property whatsoever owned held or possessed by any person or persons copartnership or unincorporated association resident in this Commonwealth company jointstock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation created and existing under the laws of this Commonwealth or doing business within this Commonwealth in the capacity of executor or administrator of a non-resdient decedent or as trustee agent or attorney-in-fact for any resident or non-resident religious charitable scientific literary or educational organization no part of the net earnings of which insures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, I will explain what changes have been made. One of them corrects an error on page six by striking out the word "twenty-first" and inserting the word "first." The other amendment amends the Corporate Loan Tax Act to bring it in compliance with the Personal Property Tax Act, the Corporate Loan Tax Act being part of this Act, and exempting from corporate loans as well as personal property, trusts created by non-residents, for the benefit of non-residents. We are advised that will not affect the revenue obtained from the tax.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill be printed for the use of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want the members of the Senate to know that I am not unaware of the fact that the gentleman from Tioga's ability to quote my remarks of 1935 is due to no sudden activity on his part.

I should like the members of the Senate to know that I have known for sometime that all of the remarks that I have made, since I have been in the Senate, and are being copied and prepared by stenographers for the purposes of the organization as and when the time arrives, and that this is just another one of the activities of the party on important matters in the Commonwealth. It is very important to have all my remarks noted so I may be confounded. I invite the use of those remarks frequently.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1 as follows:

An Act to amend sections three and eight of the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred fifteen) entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries prescribing certain procedure for

tion does not satisfy all the prescribed conditions he shall have five days from the date of the receipt of the notice to comply with the prescribed conditions If he is informed that the petition does satisfy all the prescribed conditions or if he complies with the prescribed conditions within five days as provided herein he shall have ten days after the last day for filing nomination petitions to file with the election authorities a written acceptance of the nomination the names of only those persons who file such acceptances shall be printed on the ballots as condidates for council

Section 207 Return of Filing Fee If the candidate does not complete the nomination or if he receives as many as 10,000 votes at any stage during the election count the filing fee shall be returned but otherwise the filing fee shall be retained by the city

Section 208 Ballots The ballots and ballot boxes to be used in electing council shall be separate and distinct from those used for any other office or question The ballots for the election of council shall differ from other ballots in the following respects

(a) Series of Ballots by Rotation of Names The ballots shall be printed in as many different series as there are condidates for council Each series of ballots shall be given a series number Series number 1 shall list the names of the candidates in alphabetical order series number 2 shall list the names in the same order except that the first name shall appear last and so on with the remaining series

(b) No Party Designations The ballots shall contain no emblem mark or designation of any party

(c) Space for Other Candidates There shall be at least nine blank spaces for writing names below the printed names of the candidates and such spaces shall be preceded by voting squares as in the case of printed names Below such spaces there shall be conspicuously printed "Spaces Above May Be Used for Voting for Additional Candidates"

(d) Instructions to Voters The following instructions to voters shall be printed on each ballot

INSTRUCTIONS

Make your choices with NUMBERS only Do NOT use X marks

Put the number 1 in the square opposite the name of your first choice

Put the number 2 opposite your second choice and the number 3 opposite your third choice and so on You may mark as many choices as you please

Do not put the same number opposite more than one name

If you tear or deface or wrongly mark this ballot return it and obtain another

Section 209 Distribution of Ballots in Tablet Form The ballots shall be prepared in tablet form so that each tablet will contain an equal number of ballots from each series arranged in such combinations that two ballots of the same series will not be next to each other The tablets of ballots prepared in the manner herein designated shall be distributed to the election districts

Section 210 Central Collection As soon as the polls have closed the election officers at each polling place shall without opening it seal the ballot box used for ballots for council and send it at once as directed by the election authorities together with a record of the number of ballots for council which have been voted in the polling place to a central counting place designated by the election authorities

Section 211 Counting Personnel The election authorities shall appoint pursuant to civil service requirements a counting director as the head of the personnel for the counting of ballots for council The counting director shall appoint pursuant to civil service requirements a sufficient staff of assistants

Section 212 Checking Ballots in Boxes At the central counting place the ballots found in each ballot box shall be marked so as to identify them thereafter as from that box and shall be numbered The total number shall be recorded and compared with the record sent from the corresponding polling place The result of this comparison shall be made available to the public with notations setting forth corrections changes and discrepancies All ballots found in the ballot box which bear no evidence of being improperly cast shall be accepted

Section 213 Arrangement of Ballots The ballots shall be arranged in packages in the following order of election districts the first district of the first ward the first district of the second ward the first district of the third ward and so on through all the wards then the second districts in the numerical order of the wards the third districts in the same order and so on through all the districts

Section 214 Sorting of Ballots The ballots of each election district shall then be sorted according to (1) the first choices marked on them (2) the invalid ballots and (3) the blank ballots

Section 215 Rules for Validity If a ballot does not clearly indicate which candidate the voter prefers to all others or if it is so marked not in accordance with the instructions to voters printed on it or with the specific provisions for valid ballots in this section as to be readily capable of identification it shall not be counted and shall be invalid Every other ballot shall be storted according to the apparent intent of the voter so far as that can be clearly ascertained whether or not marked according to the instructions printed on it or the specific provisions for valid ballots in this section Any cross mark shall be disregarded except that if there is a single cross marked on a ballot on which no number 1 appears the cross mark shall be considered equivalent to the number 1 If the number 1 is omitted or if the consecutive numerical order of the numbers on a ballot is broken by the omission of one or more numbers the smallest number marked shall be taken to indicate the first choice the next smallest the second choice and so on without regard to the number or numbers omitted

Section 216 Numbering and Counting Ballots After the sorting of ballots the count of valid ballots shall begin An election district shall be drawn by lot The ballots which each candidate receives in that election district shall be numbered consecutively and this shall proceed with the ballots of the other election districts in the order in which they have been arranged and sorted The numbering of the ballots of each candidate shall then proceed with the ballots of the remaining election districts in their regular numerical order The invalid and blank ballots shall be similarly numbered

Section 217 Limited Votes Each candidate shall be credited with every valid ballot counted to him as first choice or which may subsequently be counted to him as hereinafter provided no ballot shall be credited to more than one candidate at the same time

Section 218 Quota The quota of votes sufficient to elect a councilman shall be one-tenth of the whole number of valid ballots disregarding fractions plus one

Section 219 Election of Candidates Receiving the Quota Transfer of Extra Ballots Those candidates who have a quota or more shall be declared elected The candidate with the largest number of ballots on which he is designated as first choice shall be declared elected first If two or more candidates have ballots in excess of the quota the excesses shall be transferred in the order of their sizes The ballots taken for transfer shall be those with numbers higher than the quota except as hereinafter provided Such ballots shall be sorted and counted each to the highest choice on it not yet elected If a ballot shows only choices for candidates already elected it shall be temporarily set aside until all the extra ballot of the elected candidates have been transferred Such ballots shall then be substituted for an equal number of ballots taken from the highest numbered ballots in the quota pile of that candidate which show a choice for an unelected candidate Whenever a candidate receives enough transferred ballots to complete his quota he shall be declared elected and no more ballots shall be transferred to him

Section 220 Minimum Vote Requirement After the completion of the transfers of extra ballots every candidate credited with fewer than 1,000 ballots shall be declared defeated

Section 221 Transfer of Ballots of Defeated Candidates The ballots which were credited to candidates who are declared defeated shall be transferred each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the continuing candidates A "continuing candidate" is a candidate not yet elected or defeated Any ballot of a defeated candidate taken for transfer which does not clearly indicate any continuing candidate as next choice shall be set aside as exhausted If a ballot has the same choice for two or more candidates the duplicated choices shall be disregarded except as to continuing candidates If two or more of the candidates marked with the duplicated choice are continuing and all previous choices have been elected or defeated the ballot shall be set aside as exhausted

Section 222 Defeat of Other Candidates After the transfer of the ballots as provided above the candidate with the least amount of votes shall be declared defeated and each ballot credited to him shall be transferred to the continuing candidate indicated thereon as next choice After this transfer the candidate then lowest shall be declared defeated and each ballot shall be transferred to the continuing candidate indicated thereon as next choice and so on

Section 223 Ties In deciding any tie a candidate shall be treated as having more votes than another if he was credited with more votes at the end of the last preceding transfer or crediting of ballots at which the numbers of their votes were different Any tie not thus decided shall be decided by lot

Section 224 Completion of Count The count shall proceed with the transfer of ballots until nine candidates have been declared elected or until the number of the continuing candidates is equal to the number of councilmen still to be elected In either event there shall be completed the transfer of the ballots of the last candidate defeated when the successful candidates are all determined

Section 225 Recount Every ballot which is transferred from one candidate to another shall be so stamped or marked as to indicate the candidate or candidates to whom it has been credited If in correcting an error or in recounting ballots for any other purpose any ballots are resorted or retransferred every ballot shall be made to take the same course which it took in the original count unless the correction of an error requires its taking a different course

(a) Candidates and Representatives Each candidate may personally witness the count and may appoint three representatives with authority to move anywhere within the central counting place but not more than one of the three persons authorized to represent each candidate shall have the right to be within the central counting place at the same time The appointment of representatives shall be made by written communication to the election authorities at least five days before the election

(b) Election Authorities The election authorities may witness the count and examine all proceedings They may decide any dispute arising in the count of the ballots

(c) News Representatives and Public So far as may be consistent with good order and convenience news representatives and the public shall be afforded every facility for being present and witnessing the count

Section 227 Examination of Ballots after Election The ballots cast at each election shall be preserved by the election authorities so as to keep separate (1) the ballots of each elected candidate (2) the exhausted ballots (3) the invalid ballots and (4) the blank ballots until the term of the council elected thereat has expired The ballots shall be available for inspection under the close supervision of the election authorities on written application signed by 100 or more voters and the payment of $25.00 for each day on which such inspection is held

Section 228 Publication of Information Before December fifteenth following each election of council the election authorities shall make public the number of (1) first-choice votes for each candidate (2) invalid ballots (3) blank ballots and (4) such other information about the ballots as the election authorities may deem of interest or council may require

Section 229 Vacancies in Council If a vacancy occurs in council the election authorities of the city shall recount all the ballots of the person whose office is vacant together with the ineffective ballots The recount shall be conducted as provided for the count in an election of members of council and all candidates who remain eligible shall be candidates to fill the vacancy except candidates previously elected The quota shall be the same number as at the original election for the term in which the vacancy occurs and as many persons shall be elected as there are vacancies to be filled If there is no eligible candidate to fill a vacancy it shall be filled by a majority vote of the remaining councilmen in office

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DENMAN. RESOLUTION No. 74.

In the House of Representatives, April 26, 1939.

Whereas, Under the present system of fixing the price of milk in the various districts of the Commonwealth, the producer who bears most of the risk and expense and burden of production, receives but a small part of the profit arising out of the final sale of milk to the consumer; and

Whereas, The farmer and dairyman who assumes this risk and expense and burden of production should in all fairness be entitled to receive proper compensation for his work and efforts; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, that it is the opinion of this House that the Milk Control Commission in fixing the prices to be paid by the consumer for the various grades of milk in the different districts of the Commonwealth, shall fix such prices so that the producer shall in all cases receive at least half of the price fixed by the said board, for payment by the consumer; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Chairman of the Milk Control Commission of the Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on Dairy Industries.

REPORT FROM SLATE COMMITTEE

Mr. WINNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution from the Slate Committee which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1939.

Resolved, That William C. Buell, 595 South 7th Street, Indiana, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, be appointed as Clerk of Committee in the place of J. T. Stewart, Jr., resigned, effective April 24, 1939.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Winner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WINNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Montgomery, due to the fact that the celebration of last night has also affected my memory, how many clerks of committees are now established by the Slate Committee?

Mr. WINNER. The full quota, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, we also had the full quota, but I desire to know numerically just how many are allowed by the Act of 1919?

Mr. WINNER. Mr. Speaker, I think it is twelve.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Thank you, it is fifteen.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from York and for the information of the House, the resolution before the House does not make any additional appointments. This resolution is to fill a vacancy caused by a resignation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. Due to the fact that all of the bills have not been delivered by the printer, if there be no objections, the Chair will take up at this time the third reading calendar.

The chair hears none and we will proceed with the bills on third reading.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 979, Printer's No. 417 was passed over at the request of Mr. WILKINSON.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 731, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519), entitled "An act concerning boroughs, and revising, amending, and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," as amended, by adding Section 1035.1, limiting budget and report forms.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1288, Printer's No. 382, was passed over at the request of Mr. HOMER S. BROWN.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1167, entitled:

An Act relating to the superannuated members of the State Employes' Retirement System and preserving retirement rights in case of sudden and unexpected death.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin County, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman as to the amount of the additional moneys that will be necessary to allocate and to appropriate to the State Employes' Retirement Fund in order to take care of the increased payments necessitated by the passage of this act.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I am advised by the Secretary of the Commonwealth who has made inquiry of actuaries that the amount will be so small that they do not consider any additional appropriations necessary.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 701, as follows:

An Act to further amend clause (c) of section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" restoring after a certain period the exemption of that portion of the capital stock of certain corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships and companies which were formerly exempt

Section 1 Clause (c) of section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as last amended by the act approved the eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 239) is hereby further amended to read as follows

* * * * *

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers having charge of any such corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the Treasury of the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by law Provided That for the purposes of this act interest in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly Providing further That corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to a tax under this section shall not be required to pay any further tax on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them and in which the whole body of stockholders or members as such have the entire equitable interest in remainder but corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations owning or holding such securities as trustees executors administrators guardians or in any other manner than for the whole body of stockholders or members thereof as sole equitable owners in remainder shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so owned or held by them as in the case of individuals Provided further That the tax of five mills imposed by this section on reports filed for the calendar years [one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each calendar year thereafter or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each fiscal year thereafter] one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine and one thousand nine hundred and forty or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine and one thousand nine hundred and forty shall apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering for the processing and curing of meats their products and by-products and for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That after said two year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering for the processing or curing of meats their products and by-products or for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on laundering the processing or curing of meats their products and by-products or manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of laundering or processing or curing meats their products and by-products or manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the laundering or manufacturing business or the business of processing or curing meats their products and by-products in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the laundering or manufacturing plant and business or the plant and business used in the processing or curing of meats their products and by-products Provided further That in case of fire and marine insurance companies the tax imposed by this section shall be at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of the whole capital stock Provided That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to apply to building and loan associations chartered by the State of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEBSTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I should like to make this brief explanation of House Bill 701, now before us.

This Bill in no way affects the Budget or the anticipated revenues for the current biennium.

In no way does it alter or disturb the Capital Stock Tax as it now stands.

All that this Bill does do, is to provide that the exemption from the Capital Stock Tax which for fifty years prior to 1935 applied to capital actually and exclusively engaged in laundering, in the processing and curing of meats, and in manufacturing, shall be restored after the end of the calendar year 1940.

This Bill merely records the intent of this Legislature, side by side with the Governor, to reduce taxes in Pennsylvania as soon as that is practicable; and to begin with that Tax which is a fixed charge against the wages that a concern can pay, which applies irrespective of whether the concern has operated at a profit or a loss, and which, therefore, strikes most directly and destructively at the employment of our people.

The Bill would make this phase of the Capital Stock Tax what it was when the exemption was first removed in 1935. That is, one of the Emergency Taxes, and not a part of the permanent tax structure of the State.

It is a matter of the keenest regret that no tax reduction can be put through at this time. All of us recognize the urgent necessity for it. But the hard realities just make it impossible, and the situation is so well understood that no further discussion of it is necessary here.

But I think we do owe it to the industry of Pennsylvania, and to our unemployed people whose hopes of jobs and economic independence lie in the revival of industry, to show clearly, to the extent that is within our power at this time, that the State proposes to extend practical co-operation in the form of reduced taxes, just as soon as that can be done.

We record ourselves to that effect in this Bill, and I sincerely trust that it will receive the approval of this House.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill No. 701 is the most definite return to the pre-1934 days that this Legislature is presently enacting. House Bill 701 in the first place is a pure unadulterated fake; it is an attempt to tie up the next session of the Legislature; it accomplishes nothing; as far as the present budget is concerned, and it encumbers the future study of the taxation problem. It is a futile gesture and an attempt to impress upon Pennsylvania industry that this session of the Legislature has done something to reduce taxes.

After the subtleties of last night, how a group would have the brazen face to vote "aye" on this piece of legislation, I cannot conceive. I sat on the Ways and Means Committee and I heard the State Chambers of Commerce of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania give their taxation program and they never recommended this. I heard Mr. Fuller's organization, The State Emergency Council recommend a taxation program, and they never recommended this.

This bill out "chamber of commerces" the Chamber of Commerce. This bill goes further than any of the hidebound reactionaries of Pennsylvania even think they want to go, for this simple reason, for the forty years referred to by Mr. Webster, Pennsylvania has had this unwarranted exemption in its Pennsylvania Captial Stock Tax Act. Every expert of fair and equitable taxation has recommended the contination of the tax but in a reduced millage. If you enact House Bill 701 the five mills on capital stock will never be reduced in millage, and those industries, those corporations in Pennsylvania that apparently are not represented by a well-organized lobby will have to assume the full burden of the five mills, while those of us who want to take one step farther even than the Chamber of Commerce or the State Emergency Council will exempt those favored industries. Every man who studied the situation recommends the continuation of the capital stocks tax and recommends that when, as and if it is possible the millage should be reduced from five mills to four mills. They recommend that industry pays a portion of the State's obligation in the form of this particular tax. They recommend that the exemption should never be reenacted. I say to the members of this House, to pass this act is counter to the advice of even men whom you on the other side are supposed to represent. Of course, if it is the desire of you in the majority to again allow to creep into Pennsylvania law inevitable exemptions, you will pass this act, but if you in the majority feel that only through an honest, equitable tax program can the welfare of the Commonwealth as a whole be adequately served, you will vote against this bill. You won't ham-string the 1941 Legislature, you won't pass a bill that is a fake and a fraud because it accomplishes nothing now, and in the future will place upon the shoulders of the next Legislature the burden of removing it, in an effort to secure honest government and honest legislation enacted by honest legislators. I ask the members of this House not to degenerate to the position where we are telling our constituents we have done something for you, when in reality we have done nothing for them but have only imposed an inequitable, unwarranted and unscrupulous—and somebody said un-American—exemption in our laws.

Members of the House, I sincerely hope that this House is responsive to its duties to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and that our taxation laws will not be hampered by the passage of this obnoxious legislation.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, "Hatred, hatred, trouble, trouble, boil and bubble," the theme of the industry haters. This hatred for industry about which we hear from the other side is a thing which is driving industry from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This act holds out a hope to industry so that it will not continue its flight from this state. As a result of the situation in which we find ourselves today we cannot remove the taxes from the people immediately, but as a result of economies which are being made in government and the effort which is being made to have an efficient administration, giving to the people the least possible expense necessary to carry on the important functions of the government, we hope in the near future we will be able to relieve industry from some of the burden of taxes. One of the things which has been driving industry out of this state has been the attitude of hatred and dislike to industry, which has been evidenced by the other side of this House.

I say to the members of this House that although this bill does not give any substantial immediate relief, it does hold out the hope that industry which does not flee the state will have some relief from taxes in the future.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, it is my intention to cast my vote for this bill, but early in the session there was another bill introduced in this House, House Bill No. 407, which would have given not any particular special class of industrial exemption, but which would have removed the five mill capital stock tax.

After listening to the arguments presented to the Ways and Means Committee by the gentleman referred to by Mr. Cohen, I immediately offered an amendment to that bill, which would have reduced the deduction from five to two mills. It was my intention and I think it was the intention of every member of this House to show industry in the state of Pennsylvania that we did appreciate that some relief should be given to them and that unemployment should be absorbed. However, I think this bill should have gone farther than Mr. Webster has anticipated. It should have said it was the intention of this House in the next session of the Legislature to reduce the capital stock tax from five to two mills on every business that is compelled to pay a capital stock tax, both small and large.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, both the gentleman from Dauphin and the gentleman from Armstrong have specifically called to the attention of this House my objections to the passage of this bill.

The gentleman from Dauphin said that it accomplishes no immediate relief. The gentleman from Armstrong says that his proposition is to reduce the capital stock tax on all industry and not to give it to a favored few. How can this House, exercising its intelligence, assume a position that they are going to do two things, one, pass a bill that does not mean anything, and two, pass a bill that does not accomplish the purposes as indicated by the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Gates? Is this House willing to enact a bill with those two apparent defects? Members of the House, this bill, one hundred per cent, bears the name not of the sponsor, Mr. Webster, but it is a one hundred per cent Joe Grundy measure, and just as sure as the membership of this House vote in favor of this catchy fake legislation, just that sure each one of you will share that Joe Grundy tag.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am sorry to rise a second time, but I must confess that I agree with Mr. Cohen, my colleague, that the banquet last night did not stop at eleven o'clock.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee from whence it came for a public hearing on December 1, when we expect to be in special session.

The SPEAKER. The motion is out of order.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 771, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the second day of March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws 6) entitled "An act to enable persons associations partnerships and corporations engaged in farming and raising breeding fattening and marketing livestock to borrow money and secure the repayment thereof by the execution and recordation of chattel mortgages on livestock farm machinery farm equipment and crops and designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages" as amended further changing fees and agencies from whom borrowings may be made

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before the House is essentially a farmers bill, and is of great importance to the agricultural sections of the Commonwealth. We have on our farms many progressive tenants who do not own real estate, but who do own their livestock and farming equipment.

Under the present law our State and National banks, which includes nearly all of the rural financial institutions, are unable to loan these tenant farmers the money they need to buy seed, lime and fertilizer in the springtime, or feed, cattle or equipment at any time of the year, except on the signature of the man and his wife as the only security for the loan.

The passage of this bill would enable all State and National banks to loan this much needed money and take as security a chattel mortgage on livestock and machinery, which mortgage would be recorded and constitute satisfactory security.

This measure would not only bring additional business to the country banks, but would accommodate a deserving group of people and stimulate business.

I ask all members to help pass this worthwhile piece of legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 968, Printer's No. 385, was passed over at the request of Mr. VOORHEES.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 896, entitled:

An Act to amend section 2504 of the act approved June twenty-third one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" providing a method for the valuation of real property for taxation purposes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to superficially interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEBSTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman just what effect the passage of this bill will have upon the budgets of the various municipalities that depend upon income from taxes received from real estate.

Mr. WEBSTER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill it stabilizes the budget.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will this bill allow an increase in valuations to the extent that the borrowing capacity of the various municipalities will also be increased.

Mr. WEBSTER. Mr. Speaker, I do not understand it that way.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, does this bill in any manner decrease the income that the municipalities will receive from taxes on real estate?

Mr. WEBSTER. Mr. Speaker, that is not my understanding.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, then just what does the bill do?

Mr. WEBSTER. Mr. Speaker, it does this, if the gentleman will turn to page two of the bill, it specifically states:

> "In all cases he shall value or cause to be valued the property at the actual value thereof. In arriving at such value the price for which any property would separately bona fide sell or the price at which any property may bona fide actually have been sold shall be considered but shall not be controlling. Instead such selling price estimated or actual shall be subject to revision by increase or decrease to accomplish equalization with other similar property within the taxing district."

As I understand it, this means if in a block of houses that are valued at approximately, we will say, ten thousand dollars, one house should be sold at a distress sale, we will say, for five thousand dollars, the valuation of that house for taxing purposes cannot be reduced disproportionately with the other houses in that section.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1287, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections one and two of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 1286) entitled as amended "An act empowering cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships to charge and collect annual rentals for the use of certain sewers sewage systems and treatment works including charges for operation inspection maintenance repair depreciation and the amortization of indebtedness and interest thereon" authorizing the imposition and collection of ready to serve charges and extending the purposes for which rentals and charges may be made

Section 1 Sections one and two of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 1286) entitled as amended "An act empowering cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships to charge and collect annual rentals for the use of certain sewers sewage systems and treatment works including charges for operation inspection maintenance repair depreciation and the amortization of indebtedness and interest thereon" as amended by section one of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 630) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any city borough incorporated town or township either singly or jointly with other municipalities or townships or both has wholly or partially constructed or shall hereafter wholly or partially construct or complete any sewer or sewage system or sewage treatment works either wholly or partially at public expense or shall have acquired or shall hereafter acquire the same either wholly or partially at public expense or whenever any city borough incorporated town or township shall singly or jointly with other municipalities or townships or both enter into any contract with any authority established in accordance with law or with any private corporation for the furnishing of sewer or sewage treatment services or both for its or their benefit and the benefit of the inhabitants thereof such city borough incorporated town or township may provide by ordinance or resolution enacted either before or after the acquisition or construction thereof or the entry into such contract for the imposition and collection of an annual rental or charge for the use of such sewer sewage system or sewage treatment works from the owners of the property served [or to be served] by it and a reasonable annual charge in the nature of a ready to serve charge from the owners of property for which service is available whether such property is located within or without the corporate limits of such city borough town or township

The annual rental or charge so imposed shall be a lien on the properties served and such liens may be filed in the office of the prothonotary and collected in the manner provided by law for the filing and collection of municipal claims

Section 2 Any such annual rental or charge may be such sum as may be sufficient to meet any or all of the following classes of expense (a) the amount expended annually by the city borough incorporated town or township in the operation maintenance repair alteration inspection depreciation enlargements additions extensions or other expenses in relation to such sewer sewage system or sewage treatment works (b) such annual amount as may be necessary to provide for the amortization of the indebtedness incurred or the non-debt revenue bonds issued by the city borough incorporated town or township in the construction or acquisition or in the enlargement addition to or extension of such sewer sewage system or sewage treatment works and interest thereon and any taxes covenanted to be paid by the municipalities on the principal of and interest on said bonds in order that said improvements may become self-liquidating or as may be sufficient to pay the amount agreed to be paid annually under the terms of any contract with any authority or private corporation furnishing sewer or sewage treatment services to such city borough town or township and (c) sufficient to establish a margin of safety of ten per centum Any unused surplus from any preceding year shall be paid into the fund accruing from said rentals or charges and whenever the amount in said fund exceeds the said margin of safety of ten per centum the excess shall be paid into the sinking fund The amount required for sinking fund and interest shall be paid into the sinking fund and the amount so paid including any excess as above provided shall not be used for any other purpose The said annual rental or whatever charge shall be decided upon by the city borough incorporated town or township shall be apportioned equitably among the properties served and for which service is available by the said sewer sewage system or sewage treatment works

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I read this bill, it again reinstitutes in our legislative philosophy a system that has been discarded. Advanced utility legislation, as well as advanced utilities, have been uniformly against the imposition of a ready-to-serve charge. There is not in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania an outstanding utility which has not of its own accord, and the other utilities which have been subsequently forced to do so by the Utility Act of 1937, abandoned the ready to serve charge philosophy in utility legislation.

As I understand this bill, this would allow municipalities to institute a ready to serve charge for the utility service which they are furnishing either to their own constituents or adjacent municipalities. I feel that this bill should be amended to conform with advanced thought, and if there is a necessity for a charge, the charge should be a minimum charge rather than a ready to serve charge. For those reasons I oppose the enactment of this legislature.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1287, Printer's No. 416, was passed over at the request of Mr. BRETHERICK.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1064, entitled:

An Act to repeal section eight of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws 941) entitled "An act providing for the preparation contents style printing and binding of the Legislative Journal and its delivery and distribution providing for the preparation printing and binding of the Journals of the Senate and House of Representatives authorizing the appointment of official reporters expert typewriters clerks and other employes and providing for their compensation and mileage providing for the making of an appendix and index the printing of wrappers or envelopes for mailing the Legislative Journal and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith" in so far as it relates to the preparation printing binding and distribution of the Separate Journal of the House of Representatives

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 870, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" further defining State employes and original members and making further exception to compulsory membership in the system

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire just how much additional money the enactment of this bill will necessitate being appropriated to the State Employees' Retirement Fund.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that would depend entirely upon how many people were taking advantage of it. It would be open only for thirty days. I feel, however, that there will be very few people who will take advantage of it. If everybody would take advantage of it, it would necessitate a rather substantial sum, perhaps one hundred thousand dollars, but the probabilities are that very few will take advantage of it, and as a result the cost will not be very high.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand this bill takes out or exempts the legislative employees from the benefit of this act?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, no, that is not the intent of the bill.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that this bill removes the exemption that has heretofore been applicable to legislative employees?

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is correct. This permits legislative employees who are on a per diem basis during the legislative session to take advantage of the benefits of this act. We feel they should be included. Many of them for many years have rendered faithful service and should be entitled to take advantage of it.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel until we know the extent of the additional burden that will probably be placed upon the Fund, it is a dangerous bill to enact. It necessitates, as the gentleman has indicated, a possible contribution into the State Retirement Fund of one hundred thousand dollars, and I am not sure that we should expose ourselves to that possibility or to the probability of a sum of that approximate amount. I feel that some actuarial study should be made before we expose the fund to that situation. I realize the desires of this bill, as far as they apply to particular individuals, but the bill should be more particularized. I do not think we should dangerously expose this fund, because in a short period of thirty days, enough applications might be made to hamper the actuarial studies of the present State Employment Retirement Fund.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the gentleman from York thinks the bill would be satisfactory if the time limit were reduced from thirty days to five days?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, my advisors tell me I shall tell you, "yes."

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 870, Printer's No. 372 was passed over at the request of Mr. WOODSIDE.

BILL ON THIRD READING

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 962, entitled:

An Act permitting railroad corporations to fix in their by-laws the time for annual and other meetings and the election of directors

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I read this bill it permits railroad companies to fix in their by-laws the time for the annual meeting for the election of directors.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALSPACH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman how this bill changes the existing law.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the existing law, railroad companies do not have the privilege of deciding for themselves when and where they shall have their annual meetings of stockholders. The time is fixed otherwise than by the railroad directors themselves.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN, I desire to inquire of the gentleman by what act of Assembly that particular restriction is imposed upon the railroad companies.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the reference at my finger tips in answer to the gentleman's question, as to just what particular act imposes this restriction.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman if he does not think it would be better procedure to amend the act that fixes the time rather than pass a general repealer, which would add to the confusion?

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, not necessarily. This act is a very short one, it is very concise, and to the point. It specifically states just what is desired to be accomplished thereby.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate Mr. McGarrity, the gentleman from Philadelphia, an exponent of the railroad situation, who is not a lawyer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGARRITY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, not having had the opportunity or the pleasure to be chief counsel for any of the railroad companies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman whether or not—

Mr. McGARRITY. Mr. Speaker, maybe one of these days Mr. Cohen will be a consulting lawyer for one of our railroad companies.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in order to advise the membership of the House, will the gentleman please explain to the membership what act of assembly restricted the railroad corporations from having an annual meeting at their own discretion?

Mr. McGARRITY. Mr. Speaker, way back in 1868 a law was passed that railroads and utilities had to set a certain date, and the Pennsylvania Railroad and all the railroads of Pennsylvania have the first of the year. However, in 1935 it was changed so that the utilities, outside of the railroads, could set their own date. At the present time the railroads have to abide by the first of the year. In other words, if a director should die in the interim we would have to wait until the first of the year to have a meeting of the directors. Now is that satisfactory to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the lucid exposition of the law by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McGarrity, I respectfully move that Mr. James McGarrity be made a member of the bar.

Mr. McGARRITY. Mr. Speaker, I have been a member of many bars.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no objection to the thought that the sponsor of this bill seeks to accomplish. However, there are certain good precepts of legislation that should be followed. In the first place I understand that the constitution of 1868 imposed this imposition and that the subsequent constitution of 1874 possibly reenacted that particular phase. There is a question in my mind whether we can by a mere act of assembly destroy substantive law, and if the legal minds of this House are certain that this particular type of legislation will cure the defect, I have no objection to it. However, I feel that before the final passage of this bill, at least in the Senate, additional members of the bar should be consulted to determine the constitutionality of this enactment.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—160

Achterman,	Falkenstein,	Lichtenwalter,	Schrock,
Ackermann,	Fauset	Lovett,	Schrope,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. FLEMING.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 674, as follows:

An Act requiring justices of the peace and aldermen to use only the forms of warrants notices writs and processes as furnished by the county commissioners through the county controllers requiring that records of the issuance thereof be kept and returns be made quarterly thereon to the county controllers and providing penalties

Section 1 The county commissioners may prepare and furnish through the controller's office of each county all forms of warrants notices writs and processes relating to or incident to (1) desertion and non-support (2) surety of peace (3) violations of vehicle code (4) criminal offenses (5) juvenile court cases and (6) miscellaneous summary offenses not specifically enumerated above These forms may be prepared and distributed in pads containing fifty forms each and each attached to a stub and consecutively numbered Upon each such form there shall be in addition to the specific number the name of the county and of the offense The county controller shall keep a record of the number of each such form delivered and the specific number thereon and the name of the justice of the peace or alderman to whom delivered

Section 2 No justice of the peace or alderman shall issue in any county where such forms are prepared and issued by the county commissioners any warrant notice writ or process covering any of the enumerated offenses as above set forth unless he shall use the forms of warrants notices writs and processes as supplied to him by the controller of the county in which he is a justice of the peace or alderman Each justice of the peace and alderman shall upon preparing such a warrant notice writ or process enter on the stub of such form which stub shall remain in the pad the name and address of the person for whom such warrant notice writ or process was issued and the dates of such issuance and the return thereof

Section 3 Each justice of the peace and alderman in any county which has accepted the provisions of this act shall on the first day of each January April July and October of each year file a report with the county controller of the number of forms the type of offense and the numbers thereon

Section 4 Any justice of the peace or alderman in any county which has accepted the provisions of this act who issues any form of warrant notice writ or process other than that supplied by the county controller or who fails to enter upon the stub of each form as issued the record as required by this act or who fails to file the reports as required and at the times specified upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of three hundred dollars ($300) or to undergo an imprisonment of thirty (30) days or both in the discretion of the court

Section 5 This act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, due to the very grave question of constitutionality raised by my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Brown; the decision of the Supreme Court in the McNair Case, and not wishing to place any acts on the statute books of Pennsylvania which would be unconstitutional, I move Mr. Speaker, that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Counties for further consideration.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Banking, for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MUIR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. MUIR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York why he desires to have this bill recommitted.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is a pernicious imposition upon the banks and trust companies of the Commonwealth. It allows the preservation of photostatic films, reproductions and photographs of original records. I cannot see the necessity for this particular type of legislation. The occasions that require it are few and far between. In addition, the cost to which the banks are exposed in instituting this type of service will impose an additional hardship upon our banking institutions. Possibly one bank in a community will resort to this method and thus make it almost imperative that every bank in that community resort to this particular method of keeping their records, with the result that the banks that are today not making any return upon the moneys deposited by the depositors will have imposed upon them additional overhead in cost.

Mr. MUIR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think the gentleman from York is wrong on that point. This does increase the expense of banks slightly, but it does on the other hand save them money. I think that this motion should be voted down.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Muir.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Warren permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUIR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain to the House how this saves the bank money.

Mr. MUIR. Mr. Speaker, it saves the bank money in this way, in the number of employees.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the gentleman, what will be saved to the institution by this system?

Mr. MUIR. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that, but I have been informed by some of the banks that this is something that they have wanted for several years. The national banks have it and the state banks do not, as I understand. They would like very much to have this system.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain to the members of the House what is the cost of this additional service and how much of a financial burden will be imposed upon the banking institutions.

Mr. MUIR. Mr. Speaker, I cannot give the figures on that.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that the answers of the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Muir, have clearly indicated to the House that we do not know what we are doing on this bill and I recommend that it go back to the committee until we find out.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is not my bill, but it happens to be a bill that I have heard about from bankers, and if the gentleman from York is willing I will explain to him briefly why I am opposed to his motion to recommit.

This bill has been in committee for a long time, it has been reported out by the Chairman of the Committee, and I presume it has had ample consideration. It happens that one of the banks that I have discussed the matter with is located in the town from which the Chairman of the Committee comes. My understanding of it is precisely what the previous speaker, Mr. Muir stated, that the national banks do have this privilege. This legislation is permissive in nature and not mandatory. No bank has to adopt it if it does not care to. This bill would permit the making of very small permanent records from the actual records which may be preserved and at any time they may produce a full size enlarged picture of the actual document, in any number of copies that they wish to have for persons who need them.

I think this is very satisfactory evidence that modern science is at last penetrating through the solid stone wall of the bank, and anything that would encourage such a movement should certainly be favored by this Legislature. I think there is no reason why we should restrict the banks in their method of preserving records. This Legislature has already, I believe, by previous acts, permitted recorders of deeds and others to adopt a photostatic system. Since this bill has been in committee for a long time, and as the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen apparently has no amendment to offer to this bill, I would like to oppose the recommittal because this Legislature is gradually drawing to a close and we must vote on these things "yes" or "no". I therefore oppose the recommittal of this bill to the committee from which it has just been reported out.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. Kane set forth some matters which I wished to explain to the House. This bill is not a "must" bill. Various banks in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have different methods of keeping books and records. Mr. Muir stated that no savings banks or state banks have this system. Many trust companies in the state of Pennsylvania have a system by which they keep records in this way. This is only to permit those records to be construed as legal in the State of Pennsylvania. It is not a "must" bill, it is a "may" bill, for those banks that desire to keep the records in a most up-to-date and modern manner.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Muir.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Warren permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUIR. I Will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the measure provide for the preservation of films in duplicate?

Mr. MUIR. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that it does, in duplicate, but it provides for the preservation of the film.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the preservation of records by means of films where there are not two depositories is a very unsafe method of preservation. Newspapers are now preserving their files by means of films. Every time they make a film there is a copy deposited, for instance, with the Eastman Kodak Company, so there is one film that is in the custdy of the newspaper and another film that is preserved against accident. So I say if this measure does not require the preservation of films in duplicate, one film in the possession of the bank and other film in some other place supposedly safe, it is a very insecure and loose way of preserving records.

I certainly think, Mr. Speaker, that the bill should go back to committee and be amended in conformity with what Mr. Gates stated, so as to have a modern up to date method of preserving records.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not know a whole lot about this bill but from what I have gathered from the arguments on the other side, they are, first, that the bill goes too far, and, second, it does not go far enough. It seems to me we might be walking in the middle of the road, which is usually a pretty safe way. I think that we ought to vote down this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.
